Controversial ponds being dug

By NANCY WELL
of the Press-Record

A tract of land that was the source of an alleged bribery scheme that left two Madison County officials under grand jury indictment is again the subject of controversy.

William Nichols has started digging ground to create a catfish breeding facility on property south of Bent Road and east of Route 203 off Mueller Road.

Nichols requested a permit from the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals to build an engineers' bridge over a ditch so that he could transport dirt from the property to the SCA Services Landfill, adjacent to his land.

Three people opposed the request at an on-site hearing June 29, 1982, and the zoning board recommended that the permit be denied. Last July, the Madison County Board upheld the recommendation.

But the controversy continued when the grand jury returned indictments against two officials accused of accepting a bribe to help Nichols obtain the permit for the ponds.

Madison County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton was indicted in November for allegedly accepting $1,000 from Nichols, half of which was to be forwarded to a zoning board member to influence his vote on the permit.

Walter "Shang" Greathouse, a member of the zoning board of appeals and president of the Metro-East Sanitary District, also was indicted, although he has said he returned the $500 to Barton and later voted against the permit request.

Charges against Barton of bribery, conspiracy to commit bribery and official malfeasance were dismissed in May by Associate Judge Edward Ferguson, who ruled that a "prosecutorial misconduct" by State's Attorney Don Weber tainted the case.

Interest-ing challenge?

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

At least one Quad-City area taxing body is studying whether it may legally force Madison County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus to reimburse all or some of the money the county has earned in interest on tax funds collected and invested in past years.

B-J services superintendent of the Granite City schools, told the Press-Record yesterday that he has asked school attorney William Schooley to study a May ruling by the Illinois Supreme Court to determine whether the school district is entitled to interest the county has kept on taxes collected for the school district and invested for certain periods.

"I would think if we have some money coming in, we would be looking in all directions," Davis told the Press-Record.

The amount of money involved could be sizeable. In April, Assistant State's Attorney Marvin "Zeb" Smith of a letter to county tax manager, was estimating that the county stands to lose approximately $500,000 a year should the Supreme Court rule that counties are not entitled to keep interest earned on collected and invested tax monies. The following month, the Supreme Court ruled against the counties.

Norman Hall, tax collector of Chouteau Township, said Henkhaus testified in court last year that the county is losing $200,000 in interest a year by not collecting the first installment of taxes from the four townships which have township tax collectors — Nanpeek, Granite City, Venice and Edwardsville townships. Chouteau Township also has a tax collector, but payment of the first installment to him

Housing bond issue is studied

Granite City took its first step Monday towards a program that could result in a $1.6 million low-interest loan pool for local homebuyers.

The second step will be taken by the state within the next two weeks, when it establishes buying guidelines.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler said he expects the state to act quickly, since all loan transactions will have to be completed by December, when the program ends.

Nameoki reassessments

Today's Press-Record includes the quadrennial Nameoki Township property assessment list. All real estate is reassessed every four years.

Property owners have 30 days in which to object if they believe their new assessment is incorrect.

The time to protest is now, not in 1984, when collections are made for the 1983 tax year. (Taxes being collected this summer relate to 1982 levies and valuations.)

The program is anticipated to apply to first-time buyers falling within a certain income range. In addition, the price of the home will be expected not to exceed a certain upper limit.

Other types of buyers also may be able to seek the low-interest loans, if they reside in areas the state targets for special consideration. The designated areas also have yet to be named, but may be extensive.

The loan money will come from a $495 million state mortgage revenue bond program being sponsored by the Illinois Housing Development Authority (IHDA). Monday, the council met in a special session to allow IHDA to issue the mortgage revenue bonds for the city.

The resolution, allowing the state to manage the bonds, bypasses a problem that has blocked Granite City, as well as other municipalities, from issuing their own low-interest bonds. The price of the bonding process has proven prohibitive for small mortgage revenue bond issues, according to Mayor Schuler.

The city had to abandon plans last September for its own $4 million low-interest home loan program.

OK chorus, band; shorten school day

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

In a busy session Tuesday night, the Granite City School Board reinstated the elementary band and chorus, called back two dismissed music teachers, and the throat culture and eczema health programs, revamped school starting and closing times, and reaffirmed Granite City High School's "open campus."

No action was taken on a suggestion to end the high school student smoking area. Most board grade school vocal and band teaching is to be done after school, through faculty extracurricular assignments. The chorus has about 200 members and the band accommodates another 200 youngsters.

Throat culture evaluations were ended as an extracurricular duty in a decision made Tuesday night, but administrators and board members negotiating with Teachers' Local 743 will seek authorization to add this task to the nursing staff's work.

$16 million road work

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Quad-City street highway improvements total $16.6 million in the newly-announced 1983-84 program, including $5,322,000 for Illinois Route 111, $4,762,000 for Route 203 and $3,261,000 for Interstate 270.

Also slated are projects on Chain of Rocks Road, Missouri Avenue, Broadway, Route 66, Highway Three and Klein Street, it was announced by State Representative Sam W. Wolf and State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene.

Of the 20 local projects totaling $16,669,000, nine amounting to $5,348,000 are scheduled for the 1983-84 fiscal year.

Illinois Transportation Secretary John D. Kramer told the legislators, "Your support in increasing our highway funds is greatly appreciated."

"As a result of increased state revenues, we will be able to provide a massive highway rehabilitation and repair program that will offer improved safety and safety to your motorizing constituents."

"In addition, your support helped preserve $1.1 billion in federal highway funding which otherwise would have been lost to other states."

The multi-year program covers the five fiscal years between July 1983 and June 1988.

Bridge rehabilitation totaling $2.7 million is planned on McCarbridge Avenue, Rt. 203, at the Norfolk & Western Railway and Chicago & North Western Railroad tracks south of Madison.

Edwardsville Road, Rt. 203, from 21st Street to the Chain of Rocks Road in Granite City, is to be improved with auto-milling, widening and resurfacing—$6.1 million at a cost of $216,000 in 1983-84.

Resurfacing and widening of Route 203, from Rt. 3 to I-270 at Mitchell, is estimated to cost $648,000.

Another $1,196,000 is to be spent for intersection improvement of 203 at Rt. 3. The project will require land acquisition and horizontal realignment.

Interstate 270 will be improved at a cost of $4,106,000 from Rt. 111 to the Chain of Rocks Canal bridge. The 3.24-mile '83-'84 project involves dredging and underdrains.

A total of $939,000 is being set aside for resurfacing and underdrains on 1.34 miles of I-270 on Chouteau Island between the canal bridge and the Mississippi River bridge.

And deck repairs are planned ('83-'84) on I-270's Mississippi River bridge, at a cost of $16,000.

Illinois Route Three's (Chain of Rocks Canal (Hartford canal) bridge deck, located 2½ miles north of I-270, is to be repaired ('83-'84) for $140,000.

At a cost of $1,080,000, the Illinois Route 111 bridge over the Cahokia Division Canal three miles north of I-270 will be rehabilitated during the five-year program.

Highway 111 from Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach to the Chain of Rocks Road at Mitchell will be resurfaced, including auto-milling. The 2.32-mile task is to be improved with auto-milling, widening and resurfacing—$6.1 million at a cost of $216,000 in 1983-84.

Rehabilitation of the 1.6-mile bridge—aggregating $1,371,000—are planned where Rt. 111 crosses the NW and CNW rail lines.

At two other points on 111 there will be both bridge widening and rehabilitation. A total of $1,047,000 is listed for 111 where it intersects Poag Road and NW tracks, and $907,000 is reserved for the bridge at 111 and the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

Resurfacing costing $1,296,000 is planned on 4.41 miles of Rt. 111 from a point south of I-111 to a point to south of Chouteau Island ('83-'84).

Chain of Rocks Road at Mitchell is due for two projects. It will be resurfaced and widened for 3.12 miles from Rt. 111 to Rt. 157 at a cost of $918,000.

And Chain of Rocks Road will be resurfaced ('83-'84) for 1.1 miles from a point west of Rt. 3 to a point east of Mitchellville Road at a cost of $100,000.

Illinois Route Three's Cahokia Division Canal (Hartford canal) bridge deck, located 2½ miles north of I-270, is to be repaired ('83-'84) for $140,000.

At a cost of $1,080,000, the Illinois Route 111 bridge over the Cahokia Division Canal three miles north of I-270 will be rehabilitated during the five-

Steel firm picks GC

By GEORGEANN McGEE
of the Press-Record

Cauffiel Machinery of Toledo, Ohio, a steel-processing firm, is expected to open operations here within the next five months.

Ford B. Cauffiel, chairman, said the firm will employ about 50 local workers in a metal-cutting process for metal stampers.

The firm will buy about 90 percent of its anticipated annually-needed 50,000 to 100,000 tons of steel from the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp.

Cauffiel said his business will benefit the city's unemployment situation by providing jobs directly and also indirectly by assisting Granite City Steel's orders. The city's unemployment rate rose to 21.2 percent for June.

The company plans to invest about $1 million to be arranged through the state Small Business Administration 500 loan interest loan program.

Start up investments for steel processing firms generally require about a $5 to $20 million initial investment, according to Cauffiel, who claims a new process his company has developed trims costs and compacts equipment needs.

(Heitman Steel Products, Inc., another steel processing firm coming to the area, is expected to invest about $7 million to begin operations. The company will hold groundbreaking ceremonies at 4 p.m. Monday at Northwest Industrial Park, next to Pre-Cast Metal Co.

Cauffiel met with city and county officials Tuesday morning at Granite City Hall, after being invited by the city's industrial search committee to discuss tax abatement plans.

The steel chairman said he has been concerned about inventory taxes, which he said were being imposed on the company's Ohio plant. He expects the new firm here to store large orders for some customers. Illinois does not have an inventory tax.

His company will lease, rather than own, its building, making property tax abatements unnecessary.

Cauffiel said he came to this area in search of a new location after his new pickling (chemical treatment of metal) concept became a success in Bessemer, Ala. The company was later sold, but he said, the "extremely efficient" operation he encouraged him to seek other locations.

According to Cauffiel, he talked with Granite City Steel, among other local companies, and was satisfied a need for his company's services exists here.

"Instead of selling this one (plant), we're going to keep it," Cauffiel said. "It's a good investment."

He said a healthy output by his company could act to prevent imported steel from entering the local market. Imported steel has become an issue of concern with United Steelworkers of America, who feel the foreign bite in this country's steel market.

Cauffiel said he was amazed at the level of unemployment here and called the pool of skilled laborers here the area's biggest asset.

His company plans to hire most of its local employees through the Job Training and Partnership Act (JTPA), which is replacing the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). Under the program, employers are reimbursed up to 50 percent of the training costs during the first six months employment of a JTPA worker.

Bill Hanke, county Manpower coordinator, said no residents to apply for JTPA they had not been employed, but must fall in categories described as economically disadvantaged. Those could include recipients of welfare payments or food stamps or those families with poverty income guidelines, excluding unemployment benefits and aid payments. The poverty income range is under $3,540 for a single individual to an income of $14,730 for a family of six.

Granite City residents may apply for the program at the Illinois State Employment Job Service, 7 American Village Shopping Center. They should indicate their specific interest in JTPA.

Trade missions to China, Arabia

Illinois will be active in a full schedule of trade missions and shows from now through June 1984 in a continuing effort to promote sale of Illinois goods abroad.

The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs' (DCCA) International Business Division assists companies that want to take part in one of the 20 shows in which the agency has reserved exhibit space. DCCA also helps firms in transporting and erecting displays.

Officers from its Chicago office or four overseas operations personally assist business officials representing Illinois companies at the shows.

"These shows offer companies outstanding opportunities to gain product exposure to people who are ready to make deals on the spot," DCCA Acting Director Mike Whiff said Friday. "For example, in 1973 we estimate that 350 Illinois companies made $24.7 million in immediate, off-the-floor sales at these shows."

Sales projections from the 70 shows in the last 10 years added up to more than a quarter of a billion dollars for DCCA exhibitors, he said.

Events scheduled for the near future include a four-city trade mission to China Oct. 10-23, a construction and materials exhibition in Saudi Arabia Oct. 23-Nov. 3 and a medical equipment and hospital supply trade show in Sweden Nov. 30-Dec. 2.

Be cautious during high heat, humidity

By WM. L. KEMPINERS
Director, Illinois Public Health Department

Both heat exhaustion and sunstroke can develop rapidly if weather conditions are right.

When the temperature soars and the humidity nudges 90 percent, don't overexert yourself or stay too long in the sun. Don't be afraid to get a job done or get a tan that you increase your risk.

Heat exhaustion occurs when you build up too much body heat from overexertion in hot weather, even though you may not be working in direct sunlight.

Wear lightweight, loose-fitting clothing — preferably cotton because it won't interfere with the evaporation of sweat.

She hopes to strengthen ties between the county and state, work closely with agencies to which the 708 board allocates funds, and develop a pamphlet on services available in Madison County.

Controversial ponds

Greathouse was indicted on charges of official misconduct, conspiracy to commit bribery and failure to report a bribe attempt. A trial on those charges is expected to be set for sometime in September.

Both Greathouse and Barton deny any wrongdoing. Barton says the money was a political contribution and nothing more. Nichols was granted immunity from prosecution in return for his testimony.

The latest chapter of the ongoing saga started July 9 when Nichols apparently started digging ground to create the catfish breeding ponds.

Joe Dorris, a farmer who lives at the end of Mueller Road, complained that heavy machinery was causing rut at least two feet deep in the road. He said that the digging and the heavy equipment was making it difficult for him and his family to get in and out of the farm.

According to Dorris, the presence of the equipment and the deteriorated condition of the road is jeopardizing his livelihood.

Mueller Road is in Nameoki Township and the highway department which is in charge of maintaining it, has created additional bad feelings.

Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehele is extremely upset that Nichols has started digging on the property. He contends that the road is in much worse shape now than it was a month ago, prior to the digging.

Nichols had said last year at the request of the request that he would repair any damage to the road. Farmers who complained were reassured that a road would be built to accommodate them.

But Mehele said that after the farmers started complaining this week, Nichols said he would take responsibility for repairing the road. Nichols claims that the highway department has not maintained the road and that he and Quality Sand have done work on Mueller Road.

Mehele insists that isn't so.

He said that he chipped and oiled the road when he first took office about four years ago. "But oil is so expensive, I haven't been able to afford to get back since I have to have maintenance it. We have parked in it," he said.

Mehele said the road has been maintained to a level that allows the farmers and residents of the area to get in and out. There weren't any problems until the heavy equipment moved in last month, he said.

The township commissioner is angry because Nichols never did receive a permit to dig or to move the equipment into the area.

Nichols could not be reached for comment. However, when he requested the permit he pretended that he didn't need the permit to dig, because the land belongs to him. The only permit needed was for construction of the bridge, which was denied.

The request, which was for a permit to mine topsoil, was made because there is no other classification provided by the county for digging to create lakes and ponds.

Residents of the area feared that the land would be used to expand the SCA Services facility. Nichols, however, said that the land was going to be used only for the breeding ponds and he said he plans to live in that area.

Greathouse said he can't understand how Nichols is able to move in and begin digging, because the permit request was denied. "The county board — everybody — said he couldn't do it. We might as well do away with zoning. I've never seen anything like this," he said.

Mehele agreed and said that he received numerous telephone calls at his home from irate residents of the area when Nichols started digging.

"You can't push local officials around just because your name is Bill Nichols," Mehele said.

County officials are expected to be brought in to help clarify whether Nichols actually needs a permit and how far his liability for repairing the road extends.

Interesting challenge?

Hall says he believes the $200,000 lost in the four townships is in addition to the $500,000 loss Smith mentioned to him in his letter to county board members.

In a case of the Wood Dale Public Library District vs. Du Page County, Justice Joseph Goldenhersh delivered the opinion reversing the judgment of the circuit court. He cited the Investment of Public Funds Act, which states, "All earnings accruing on any investments or deposits made pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be credited to the public agency by or for which such investments or deposits were made."

The Wood Dale library board contended it was at least entitled to the interest on the money held longer than 30 days by DuPage county, even if the county collector was entitled to the interest for the first 30 days after the due date.

The library board cited the amendment to section 280 of the Revenue Act of 1938, which became law on June 12, 1981, which provides, "In counties with a population of less than 300,000, the county collector shall within 30 days after due date and at 30-day intervals thereafter, pay over to the other proper authorities or persons the amounts in his hands and payable to them as taxes, not theretofore paid over."

"Taxes...and not distributed to other proper authorities shall be interest on the amount accrued on monies held by the county collectors in excess of 30 days after the due date and the succeeding 30 day intervals thereafter, shall be distributed along with the principal amount of the taxes."

Both Hall and Davis said they were just this week made aware of the May 27 ruling of the Supreme Court. Davis said his school district has forwarded a copy of the opinion to the attorney and asked for its interpretation. "That case goes all the way back to 1972," Davis said, noting that some reimbursement for past years may be involved, but he warned, "We have no idea if it is even appropriate to our taxing district."

Hall said that if the ruling entities area taxing bodies to past interest paid to the county, he believes most tax bodies will try to collect. "I don't know where the county is going to get the money," he added.

Some veterans may qualify for unemployment benefits

According to Arthur J. Lindsey, superintendent of the Madison County Veterans' Assistance Commission, many veterans that were discharged on or after July 1, 1981, may be eligible for 13 weeks of unemployment insurance benefits. This change became effective Oct. 25, 1982, when President Reagan signed into law the "Miscellaneous Revenue Act of 1982."

Prior to this change, however, discharged veterans were ineligible for unemployment benefits since they had, in effect, quit their jobs by not re-enlisting, according to Charles Pomeroy, director of administration for VOICES Inc., a veterans' outreach group. To be eligible for benefits, the veteran must have completed his first full term of service and been honorably discharged. A full term of service was not completed if the veterans had been honorably discharged depending on the case. Pomeroy also points out that those veterans who are still unemployed are encouraged to apply.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the local Veterans' Employment Representative at the Illinois State Job Service, or by calling Lindsey or Pomeroy at 1-622-4544.

GC inspector warns, rat population up

City Inspector Emerald Davis said Granite City is experiencing a rat population problem and wants residents to make their children aware of the situation.

One Lydia Lane resident recently killed two rats on two separate occasions. The city inspector thinks the closeness of Lydia Lane to a large Metro-East Sanitary District drainage ditch is a contributing problem.

Dawnes said rats also have been a particular problem in the G. O. S. P. neighborhood, although rodents appear to be on the increase all over the city. He suspects rats are traveling from the drainage ditches through the city's sewer lines.

The Granite City Humane Department has reported no rat bite cases this summer, but Dawnes said children should be told how to identify the animals and to stay away from the animals, once spotted. The inspector warns that rats, if cornered, will attack to defend themselves.

Dawnes described the rats as about 6 to 8 inches long when fully grown, excluding the length of the tail. They are brownish gray.

The inspector department has put out about 25 pounds of poison bait to combat the situation, Dawnes said.

Citizens are inserting the poison in rodent holes out of the way of children and pets. He cautions residents to use the same care when putting out poison themselves to avoid tragic accidents.

Residents needing more information about the situation should call the city inspection department at 452-6217, he says.

Deadline for EU admissions

Eastern Illinois University will accept no further applications for admission to the fall semester, effective at the close of business on Friday, Aug. 12.

Dr. Samuel J. Taber, dean of Student Academic Services, said the action was "consistent with published policy."

On July 8, the University announced that admission applications from first-time students and community college transfers with less than 55 semester hours of credit would no longer be considered for fall semester 1983. Admission to the university by undergraduate applicants transferring from four-year institutions was closed in mid-March.

Other included in earlier cutoffs were former EU undergraduates who were not good academic standing. Recipients of designated institutional awards and scholarships are not affected by the cutoff.

The graduate school will continue to consider for admission both former and new graduate applicants until the close of central registration on Tuesday, Aug. 23.

Hotline on dope growers set up

Officials of the Illinois Department of Criminal Investigation and the federal Drug Enforcement Administration have announced that a toll-free hotline has been established for reporting marijuana cultivation.

Officials said it is hoped the hotline will encourage those wishing to assist law enforcement agencies in locating marijuana grown on private and public property.

The hotline number is 1-800-BAD-ROAD.

Simmons re-elected port board chairman

Walter "Buck" Simmons has been unanimously re-elected chairman of the Tri-City Regional Port District Board.

He had been reappointed to a three-year term as the Granite City representative on the board by Mayor Paul Schuler in June of this year.

Simmons was nominated for re-election to the post by Ward Member Harold Fischer.

Other officers elected at the meeting include Dale Arnette as vice chairman and John Bellcoff, of Madison, secretary. Randall Robertson was reappointed as attorney for the port district.

Carl Ranft was again appointed general manager of the Tri-City port. Ranft has recently accepted an invitation by Secretary of Commerce Malcolm Baldrige to

Survey: American workers shine

Press-Record reader Floyd M. Crane recently sent us a copy of an article from the English supplement to the Forward, a Yiddish language, labor-oriented newspaper, "The Forward" which takes a look at the popular notion that Japanese workers work harder and are more satisfied with their jobs than American workers, thus they make a better product.

Crane, a veteran of 28 years at Granite City Steel, felt our readers would be interested in the article, based upon the 1982 Indianapolis-Tokyo Work Committee Study measuring the attitudes of 3,549 manufacturing workers in central Indiana and 3,638 in a comparable industry in Japan, as well as nearly 700 management employees.

The article cites a few statistics our readers can spot off the next time they get with a group comparing workers in the two countries.

The survey showed that 81 percent of American workers are satisfied with their jobs, compared to 53 percent of the Japanese workers surveyed.

Americans showed "significantly greater" willingness to work harder than they had to in order to help their companies do well by a margin of 68 percent, compared to 44 percent of Japanese workers in the study.

Also, 88 percent of the American workers feel that their companies and employees are like "a big family" and a company should take care of its workers. Only 58 percent of Japanese workers agreed with that idea. The Forward points out.

Another finding was that 36 percent of American workers accept the goals and values of their companies as their own, while only 15 percent of the Japanese surveyed agreed with that statement. Also, 62 percent of American workers said they would recommend jobs like theirs to their friends, but only 15 percent of Japanese workers would. About 78 percent of American workers were satisfied with their supervisors, while only 53 percent of the Japanese were. The survey also showed that 67 percent of American workers would choose the same job again; only 20 percent of the Japanese workers would.

The U.S. survey, however, pointed out that worker satisfaction significantly declined when there had been recent layoffs or wage concessions, in plants which were physically old and dirty and in facilities where management attitude seemed unsupportive toward the employees.

It's all food for thought.

Exhaust testing is not worth it

Once again, the government of the people and for the people is about to force something on the people they generally don't want.

Certainly, Congressmen and Senators are receptive to what their constituents and news reporters say, but the federal agencies they have created could care less.

Case in point: the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency says that it should not be a plan of auto inspections to fight air pollution. The alternative is to lose all federal highway funds. This would quickly have the effect of closing the area, not in exhaust fumes, but economically.

Thus, we seem destined to wait in line periodically to have our vehicles inspected, pay an inspection fee, have the inspection fees put into an account, pay for too much exhaust and then paying him to do a tune-up, an expensive tune-up, or worse, to correct the problem.

Environmentally, it is a sound idea. Realistically (and we have seen it in action) the program is easily abused. Some mechanics "find" problems which don't exist, hopeful that the motorist will select that garage to do the work.

Inspections there cost quite a bit more than was justified by the few minutes spent inspecting each car, so it should have been a blessing for the garages, but they complained that they spent so much time and money meeting the state's standards and buying the required equipment that they were doing the inspections strictly "as a favor" for the motorists and hoping they would get paid for correcting any deficiencies.

Also, once we start vehicle exhaust inspections, we may as well open the door for the next of inspections they have in other fields: checking brakes, tire tread, headlight alignment, etc. and then forcing the motorist to pay for minor, or major, adjustments.

Indiana's standards for vehicle inspections were so strict a few years ago that brand new autos directly from the showroom floor were flunking the inspections. People with six- and seven-year-old cars might as well sell them out of state, because they certainly couldn't afford to repair the autos to state standards.

Congress should prove that the EPA is not "a run-around" and actually do what it put to end to such demands. We honestly don't believe that the air will be noticeably cleaner in Granite City if vehicle exhausts are inspected, but we do suspect our pocketbooks would have a noticeable change—for the worse.

A dramatic car sales recovery

For the first time in four years, auto dealers are worried more about getting new cars delivered and into their showrooms than selling them to customers.

The nation's daily rate of car sales for July 11-20 was 2,986 vehicles — best since the 22,986 daily rate in mid-July 1973.

The brisk market is emptying dealers' lots and showrooms. One market analyst said, "You have to look hard to find models that aren't selling." Deliveries are expected to lag until assembly lines get into heavier production later this year.

The Big Three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — report an average 38.1 percent gain in sales in mid-July over the same period last year. General Motors led the two others with a 44.6 percent gain.

One marketing success story is at General Motors' Chevrolet Corvette. Dealers report they have waiting lists of buyers eager to spend more than $22,000 for the Corvette, which has been redesigned for the first time since 1968. More than 10,000 were sold between April and June.

Corvette sales demonstrate that a true American sports car would be highly valuable. The Corvette comes closest to being a domestic sports car, even though it is a rather large vehicle and has yet to come out with a manual transmission — a mark of a true sports vehicle.

Detroit's worst year in 20 years was last year, when only 5.76 million domestic vehicles were sold. This year, are expected to be at least a million more vehicles than last year.

We like to see the upward trend. If domestic cars are selling, that means employees will be going back to work in the nation's auto assembly plants, steel mills, glass plants, tire plants and at thousands of allied industries.

Buy an American-built car and help put America back on its feet.

Petitions to the Board of Review asking for a horizontal decrease in assessed property valuations for Madison County have been filed in the office of the Granite City Taxpayers League, 1917 Edison avenue. Charles H. Theis, secretary, announced today. It is the aim of the league to circulate the petitions through Granite City and to secure the signatures of all property owners who are interested in reducing the amounts of their tax bills.

The fact that improved and unimproved lands in Madison County are assessed generally 55 per cent above the average of the state, as shown by reports of the State Tax Commission, forms the basis for the petitions requesting reduction. It is pointed out, that the average assessments in Madison County are above those of some 12 adjoining counties and that Jersey County recently secured a 10 per cent reduction in all assessments.

Overbeck said that the usual first of the month mail output in Granite City is between 12,000 and 13,000 pieces, meaning that the switch to four-cent postage brought an increase of some 5000 to 6000 pieces of mail on Thursday.

Alleges persecution for supporting doctor

To the Editor:

It is sad that some of the people in our city who are very supportive of Dr. Hector Zevallos feel unable to identify themselves in their article and perhaps call the Granite City Press-Record. We have to assume they are afraid for their families and themselves of some form of retaliation.

I can certainly relate to that because that's exactly what I experienced in the form of a poison pen letter delivered to my home and several phone calls that were just short of threats after my last supportive statement in the Forum of the Press-Record that appeared when a doctor who was finally released by the persons who abducted them from their home and terrorized them for days.

A lot of us are aware, including, I'm sure, St. Elizabeth Medical Center and its staff, how very fortunate this city is to have in our midst a caring, competent and concerned obstetrician-gynecologist who, year after year, gains all the knowledge and can accurately make a diagnosis of the cause or nature of a condition, situation, or problem, in ample

Supports voluntary prayers

To the Editor:

President Reagan promised that he would push for a revised constitutional amendment to restore voluntary prayer to the classroom in the amendment states. "Nothing in the Constitution shall be construed to prohibit individual or group prayer in public schools or other public institutions. No person shall be required by the United States or by any state to participate in prayer."

The revised version adds, "Nor shall the United States or any state compose the words of any prayer to be said in public schools." This is a reasonable accommodation of the unifying action of bringing together some friends of voluntary prayer and those who were concerned that government officials would dictate religious activities.

$16 million

1.75-mile distance from Pontoon Road to 25th Street in Granite City.

Bridge rehabilitation budgeted at $32,000 is planned on Broadway, Venice, at the Terminal Railroad Association tracks.

And a $9,000 resurfacing project on Kildare Street, Venice, in '83-'84 will extend for a half-mile, from Broadway to Bissell Street.

The statewide program is intended to rehabilitate the highway system and bolster Illinois' economy by repairing more than 4,200 miles of roads and more than 900 bridges.

It is estimated that 28,000 jobs a year will be generated over the life of the projects, aiding hard-hit construction and allied industries.

critical road problems as quickly as possible."

He said 2,800 miles will be repaired or under construction within 15 months. The governor commented that the bigger fees and taxes are "a bargain, compared to auto operating and repair costs caused by poor roads."

Expenditures in the current year will total $1,050,000, including $612 million in federal funds.

Local governments throughout the state in 1983-'84 will receive an average of $307 million a year for work on roads and streets. Gov. Thompson had budgeted only $223 million for them in his "d o o m s a y" 1983-'84 budget—proposed this spring, before legislators boosted the fees and taxes.

Housing bond issue

Although the profit margin on local bonds may be too small to permit local selling of the bonds, city financial institutions are expected to be involved in processing the loans for the local homebuyers, Schuler said.

Don Rose, a spokesman for IHDA, said the agency will be negotiating the sale of the tax mortgage bonds within the next two weeks. The bond sale will determine at what interest rate the loans can be offered to residents.

The agency also must select which banks and savings and loan associations throughout the state will be participating in the program. During a previous mortgage financing program, about 40 financial institutions took part.

The limitations to be imposed on those seeking the low-interest loans are another aspect of the program still in the discussion stage, according to Rose. The upper income guideline is expected to exceed the $35,000 limit set previously. The purchase price of the home also is anticipated to be higher than the previous $30,000 limit.

Those seeking the home loans will have to meet the same standards local banks set for their regular loan customers.

The mayor said residents should expect the $1.6 million to stretch only so far in meeting the needs of local homebuyers. "I hope it (the loan program) serves the purpose for which it is intended, to serve and not just serve a few," Alderman Carl Kittel, Third Ward, said.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey, Fifth Ward, expressed concern that those earning lower incomes might be squeezed out of the program by higher-earning couples.

Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, Seventh Ward, however, said a similar program in 1979 helped stimulate the economy and Bowler encouraged the council to back the plan.

Much chromium lost

Some 73,000 tons of chromium in scrap metal is lost to U.S. industry each year because the metal is not collected, is downgraded for use in lower-quality materials or is exported, says the Bureau of Mines.

Chromium is essential for use in stress-resistant and heat-resistant alloys such as those used in jet engines.

Marketing of region expanded

The Regional Commerce and Growth Association's marketing committee, composed primarily of economic development representatives, has pooled its members' resources to fund increased efforts to market the region for business recruitment and expansions.

Peter F. Rossi, RCGA vice president of marketing, said active members of the five-month-old committee are financing activities that include: hiring Tretter-Gorman, Inc. Public Relations to stimulate a limited amount of highly targeted positive national publicity about St. Louis; mailing a full-color brochure citing St. Louis attributes as a business and residential location to corporate executives; and buying an inventory of St. Louis promotional items for use at cost by RCGA members.

"The committee recognized that now is the opportune time for RCGA to move into a stronger marketing position. With the economy turning around, corporate expansion and relocation plans are beginning to come off the shelf and the St. Louis region is in stiff competition to attract that business," Rossi said. The committee includes William Shreck of Illinois Power Co.

"It's a tribute to St. Louis that its economic development community has come together to fill a marketing need," said James O'Flynn, RCGA president.

RCGA activities have focused on providing a data base and seeking to improve the support system necessary for businesses. "Our modest marketing efforts have included some modest, a limited trade advertising, and participation in the St. Louis Partnership that makes direct calls on companies and organizations in other cities," O'Flynn said.

It is planned to impact 60 companies outside St. Louis through a participatory mailing program for the new 16-page, full-color brochure entitled "Business Opportunities at the Nation's Population and Market Center."

RCGA is providing brochures to members of Civic Progress (the organization of chief executive officers of St. Louis' largest corporations) and to selected RCGA members who will, in turn, mail them to 12 suppliers, customers or other contacts outside St. Louis.

Rossi said this effort will continue during the next six months, with follow-up calls planned by the St. Louis Partnership.

Behavior on school perimeter is praised

Granite City's high school students deserve a high grade for their conduct, the Board of Education decided Tuesday night in deciding against "closing" the campus.

A detailed survey of businesses along Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road showed a consensus that the students are well-behaved and that their presence is welcomed outside the perimeter of the school grounds.

A small minority of stores noted some discipline and shoplifting concerns, but the prevailing feeling was that the presence of 2,900 ninth through twelfth graders there this fall will not be disruptive.

Residents' and parents' views will be obtained through discussing the topic with District Nine's Citizens Advisory Council.

Principal Gilbert V. Walmsley said the campus theoretically could be closed but that the area of the former South High, now LCHS, differs sharply from more isolated former North High.

The latter campus had a mile of students leaving during the day mainly because of the traffic hazards associated with students driving to other parts of town to eat lunch, he said.

The remaining high school always has had an "open campus" policy.

Board Member Robert Maxwell urged that the district not penalize good students by limiting their right to move about in walking off potential misdeeds by a few.

With the open-or-closed campus topic referred to the citizen council, no board action was taken on Member David Parmenter's other proposal, that the high school smoking area be eliminated.

Walmsley told the board in a written report that "we have elected to react to the question of closing the school campus as a topic totally separate from the smoking question."

The only relationship we can see between the two problems is that, if the board would elect to close the smoking area, certainly more students would attempt to leave the campus in order to smoke.

"I have discussed the close question with Assistant Principals Kenneth Spalding, Victor Blehler and Fred P. Schuman and none of us feel, individually or as a group, that we would recommend that type of action."

We are basically of the opinion that there are very few negatives or positives in regard to this question because it appears the open campus has been a very little problem.

There would be some difficult management problems problems resulting from an attempt to close the campus.

"We currently have about 400 students outside and go from the campus daily because of curriculum mandates—for example, co-op students, off-campus programs, dismissals, etc.

"To daily monitor just those 400 to see if the correct persons were leaving, etc., would be a major task.

"The area is not kept clean enough by the students.

Walmsley continued, "Closing of the smoking area would result in student problems."

"Our suggestions are to maintain the use of a smoking area; continue to not allow freshmen, and possibly sophomores, in the area without parent approval; maintain three campus monitors to effectively control the grounds; and have signs and other records for visible smoker permits."

"Prior to the establishment of smoking areas, dozens of young people were sent home weekly from the high school for smoking in the building.

"Quite often this put us in the position that we were dealing with accomplished smokers from the school because of a habit they pursued with parental permission.

"In addition to that public relations problem, there were many wastebasket-type fires in the building resulting from students hurriedly disposing of lighted cigarettes when adults approached.

"Also, you will recall the visual effect of students lining the edges of the campus as they smoked. This created a terrible public image and resulted in great criticism of school control at various 'coffee klatches' around town."

"Maintaining the smoking area will allow us to continue to effectively implement our procedures for smoking violations."

The procedures are:

1. It keeps smokers off the edge of the campus. An example cited was students standing on Madison Avenue and crossing that street before the smoking area at that school was created.

2. It keeps smokers out of cars, making it easier to observe them.

3. It puts smokers in a group, making it easier to observe them.

4. There is less of a problem in restroom areas.

Smoke-filled restrooms are irritating to nonsmokers, and it is considered impossible to observe each restroom.

5. There has been little or no problem in the smoking area; monitors have been of great assistance, in the administrators' opinion.

6. The smoking area does not have to discipline smokers who have a personal consent.

7. The smoking area is used by many different types of students; non-smokers use the area to talk with friends who are smokers.

8. Having a smoking area is believed to make it easier to control smoking violations.

9. Campus monitors feel that the smoking area is not a major location of drug dealing.

Disadvantages were described as follows:

A. A smoking area is an "eyesore" to the community.

B. It may encourage younger students to smoke.

C. It may attract non-smokers to the area.

D. Some smokers are late to classes.

E. The area is not kept clean enough by the students.

F. Walmsley said,

"A major disadvantage to the open campus is the possibility that students may buy or bring in illegal drugs in the high school neighborhood; however, we don't believe closing the campus would solve the drug problem."

"It would only mandate that students procure drugs at a different time or that those attempting to deal in illegal drugs would try and infiltrate the campus and student body."

"At this time, we do not recommend a change in the open-campus policy."

The high school administration, while believing we should continue our current policies in regard to the open campus, would like to see the board members that—if they mandate a change in either policy—we will do our utmost to enforce those policies they deem appropriate.

"We would like the Board of Education to understand that we are not saying we are not accomplishing some of these tasks. We simply believe the current policies to be the most realistic, particularly with the uncertainty of events and feelings as we combine schools."

Regarding the high school students' smoking area, Walmsley said he and the assistant principals had thought of nine "pros" and five "cons."

Advantages of having an identified smoking area were listed as:

1. It keeps smokers off the edge of the campus. An example cited was students standing on Madison Avenue and crossing that street before the smoking area at that school was created.

2. It keeps smokers out of cars, making it easier to observe them.

Head Start announces lunch aid guidelines

The Madison County Economic Opportunities Commission (EOC) Head Start Program has announced it is participating in the Child Care Food Program and that meals are available for all enrolled children at no separate charge.

They have adopted the U.S. Department of Family Income Guidelines for Free and Reduced Price Meals for determining eligibility.

All children are treated the same, regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, handicap, sex, age, or national origin, according to an EOC spokesman.

Following is the income scale used by Madison County EOC Head Start (stating size of family, the annual salary for free meals, and annual salary for reduced price meals, respectively):

Parent and one child, $6,318 free meals; $8,991, reduced price meals; family of two-$9,502 and $12,099; family of three, $10,688 and $5.

$15,207: four, $12,870 and $18,315; five, $15,054 and $21,423; six, $17,238 and $24,531; seven, $19,422 and $27,639; and eight, $21,606 and $27,747.

For each additional family member, the guidelines add $2,194 to the free meal figure and $3,106 to the annual reduced price meal level.

RING MISSING FROM DWELLING

Louise Veseay, 231 Cayuga St., reported at 7:30 p.m. Monday that two girls came to the house and asked him for a drink of water. After they left, he discovered a $500 ring was missing from a drawer.

At 9 p.m. Monday, Veseay came home and reported hearing the girls and a man walking near West 23rd Street and Illinois Avenue. He confronted the trio and learned one of the girls had sold the ring to the man for $20. Veseay had the man return the ring to him.

ESCAPES INJURY AS CAR ROLLS OVER

The driver of a vehicle that rolled over several times as it plunged down a 50-foot embankment on West Main Street in Collinsville early this week escaped injury, Collinsville police reports indicate.

Charles Powell, 27, of Madison, told police he applied his car's brakes when he skidded while rounding a curve in the 1300 block of West Main, but was unable to avoid hitting a second vehicle, driven by Kathy Hanke, 34, of Lexington Avenue.

Powell was westbound at the time, the other car was eastbound. Police reports said Powell's vehicle crossed the center line, then went over the embankment.

It was raining at the time. Mrs. Hanke was taken to Oliver Anderson Hospital by a private vehicle.

Powell's car went over the embankment only a few feet east of a guard rail.

Alerts police to trailer burglary

An officer on patrol was alerted by a resident to a possible burglary in progress of a trailer truck parked in the 2200 block of Charles Street early this week.

As the officer approached the truck, a man allegedly jumped from the rear corner of the trailer and fled on foot.

Police pursued the man, who escaped among the houses on Louis Street.

A short time later, Larry Do Reagen, 18, of 2223 E. 23rd St., was taken into custody in the 3100 block of East 23rd Street and held for investigation.

An informational document was issued Monday by the Madison County state's attorney's office charging Reagen with burglary.

THREE GC STUDENTS VISIT MONMOUTH

Three Granite students participated in a pre-orientation day at Monmouth College recently. They were among 50 students who attended registration. This was the third in a series of programs designed to let both students and parents "get their feet wet" before classes meet in the fall.

Parents were encouraged to ask questions of current students currently attending Monmouth College, while students took part in academic, counseling and registration.

Residents attending were: David Brown, son of Stanley and Patricia Brown; Ford Frazer, son of Karen L. Frazer, and Douglas Frazer, all graduates of Granite City schools.

ALLEGES MAN, 27, REFUSES TO LEAVE

Scott T. Matyas, 27, of 214 Lee Ave., allegedly involved in the shooting of his wife and young child who were on the ground near their home when police arrived, was charged with disorderly conduct after refusing an officer's request to leave the area.

Matyas was taken into custody when people began to gather at the location of the shooting on Twenty-Third Street, between Washington and Lee Avenues, at 10:50 p.m. Tuesday. He was released later upon posting a $52 cash bond.

Mrs. Matyas, who declined to sign a complaint, was taken by officers to a nearby phone to contact a relative, reports stated.

Group discounts for symphony season here

More than 50 programs will be presented by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in the upcoming season both in the orchestral series and in the symphony's varied corollary series — chamber orchestra, pops at Powell, Great Performances, Family Concerts, Variety Concerts and special events including the Suzuki Talent Education Tour concert Sunday, Oct. 9 and An Evening with P.D.Q. Bach Wednesday, Jan. 25. A special discount of 25 percent is offered to any group of 20 or more for tickets to each of these concerts.

In addition to the discount, groups making ticket reservations may receive special amenities, including a free tour of Powell Symphony Hall and the backstage area; free reserved parking for buses; receptions with musicians and guest artists and the use of orchestra.

Groups of 45 or more receive 11 of the above, plus special recognition in the symphony program book and a free souvenir for each member of the group.

Packages can be designed specifically for individual groups. For more information, contact Joan C. Fann, St. Louis symphony director of group sales, 533-2500, extension 293.

SIUE Week End University—an attractive alternative

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Beginning fall quarter, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer weekend classes.

Called Week End University (Week End is two words in the title), the classes will be available in a variety of programs. Classes will be offered Saturday mornings and afternoons and Sunday evenings.

The decision to begin the program was made because statistics show that the number of non-traditional students at SIUE has continued to increase.

Christa Oxford, director of the Office of Continuing Education said, "It's rarer and rarer to find students who go to school and don't work."

About a year and a half ago, Vice President and Provost Barbara Telers and other SIUE administrators "became concerned that the student population was changing," Mrs. Oxford said.

Classes will be offered at the Edwardsville campus, the East St. Louis Center, the Scott Air Force Base Resident Center and the main campus of Belleville Area College.

Registration for Week End University classes will be Sept. 22 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sept. 23 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and Sept. 24 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Scott Air Force Base Resident Center.

Registration at the East St. Louis Center and the Scott Air Force Base Resident Center will be Sept. 8 and 9 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Registration at BAC will be announced later.

Borrowing from IUPUI ideas, SIUE administrators started to develop the Week End University plan.

Mrs. Oxford believes the program will be a success and estimates that 70 percent of those who attend will be new students who otherwise wouldn't be able to attend classes during the day or evening.

She said "there will be something for everybody," through the Week End

University, including continuation on masters' level classes which have been offered on the weekends in the business program.

A variety of student services also will be offered with the Week End University.

The University Bookstore, Textbook Services, and the Bursar's Office will be open Saturday, Sept. 24, to accommodate students. The bookstore and Textbook Services will be open 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the Bursar's Office will be open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Other services will be offered according to demand, Mrs. Oxford said.

Classes will be offered at the Edwardsville campus, the East St. Louis Center, the Scott Air Force Base Resident Center and the main campus of Belleville Area College.

Registration for Week End University classes will be Sept. 22 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sept. 23 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and Sept. 24 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Scott Air Force Base Resident Center.

Registration at the East St. Louis Center and the Scott Air Force Base Resident Center will be Sept. 8 and 9 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Registration at BAC will be announced later.

Regular Tuition and fees will be the same for Week End University classes, except for classes offered at Scott Air Force Base. Missouri residents will be able to take up to nine hours of credit per quarter at in-state tuition rates.

Recent changes in tuition structure will be in effect. For the first four hours of classes, tuition is determined by the hour.

The program will be "definitely

Promotions for two state police

Two Illinois State Police troopers have received advancements at District 11 in Collinsville, and a civilian state police clerk-typist there in 1962. He and his wife, Donna, reside in Bethalto. They have two daughters, Kristine and Jamie.

Virginia Calcaro of East Alton was promoted to sergeant in 1975 and was assigned to the central office in Springfield. She transferred to District 11 in 1976 and assumed the position of district office police clerk-typist.

Prior to leaving the girls participated in a marathon run for Muscular Dystrophy, this week, and after the run they attended a picnic at Pershing Park with all the area chapters participating.

The final meeting of July was the official visit of grand officers of the State of Illinois.

Mrs. Norma Croissant, grand guardian and Paul Schafer, associate grand guardian, introduced their grand officers for the forthcoming year followed by the presentation of Masonic dignitaries, E. Gene Ross, Deputy Grand Master, State of Illinois; Sally Schaezel, most outstanding Job's Daughters for 1982-83; P. A. Alfie O'Farrell, Grand Adelita; Helen Quigley, Grand Representative; and Danna Shuton, S. Holland, Ill., Miss Illinois Job's Daughters.

Also, Betty Edmondson, of Fairview Heights, a member of Grand Bethel Choir, Kim Wells, of Quincy, Grand Bethel Junior Custodian, and Linda Pfeifer, Elwood, Grand Bethel Senior Princess.

Special music for the event was provided by members of the host chapter who sang "Surely The Presence" to Mrs. Croissant and Paul Schafer.

Out of town guests included Jennifer Gardner, honored queen of Brisbane, Queensland, Australia; Norma Mustard, Dolores and Sharon Koopman, of Chicago, Kim Graf, Brookfield, Wis., Dolly Dunn, Carol Schafer, Dunn Lumm, all of Riverside, Ill., Sandy Lamm, of Elgin, Ill., Rhonda Hesse, Andrea Person, Cassandra Coulter, Madeline Hurst, all of Elwood, Ill., Denzil Stanley, Mount Carmel, Ill., Bonnie Konitz, Sylvia Erickson, Glenview, Ill., Michelle Sapp, Morton, Ill., and Debbie Domrowski, Berwyn, Ill.

Also, Kim Lierly, Quincy, Ill., Ann Davis, Cindy Dukes and Diane Estulin, Highland; Belinda Sims, Carolyn Wells, Collinwood, Ohio; Pritchett, Judy Lane, Ann and Sheri Volberg, Shonks Lane, Jessica A. instead of 18; however, the number of students will be only slightly less than a year ago, board members noted. The cost reduction plan had trimmed the number of school nurses from eight to four; instead, the total now will be four.

With classes slated to start Aug. 23 if agreements have been reached with all the school employee groups, the board adopted a schedule of starting and closing times for 1983-84.

Instead of reporting for classes from 8:45 a.m. to 3 p.m. each weekday, first through sixth grade children will attend from 8:30 to 2:45.

Grigsby Junior High students will continue to have an 8:30-3:45 schedule.

Both Granite City High School and Coolidge Junior High will change from 8 a.m. to 3:30, in the past, to 8 a.m. to 3:10. These two schools are adjacent to each other.

The ten-minute reduction for GCHS and Coolidge students will not necessarily apply to the faculty, a discussion brought out. That decision remains to be made. Current board policy envisions teachers reporting 15 minutes before the first class and staying 15 minutes after the final class.

Assistant Supt. Frank L. Kraus said: "In changing to the new starting and closing times, we will be able to operate the buses' schedules without adding to our bus runs."

Supt. B.J. Davis agreed that the district is keeping a close watch on transportation costs.

When Board Member David Partney suggested staggering the high school and Coolidge class times, Kraus said this would increase bus costs. Kraus added that congestion will be minimized by having buses stop at two widely separated points.

Board Member Thomas Motsick proposed lengthening rather than shortening the day at GCHS and Coolidge.

Principal Gilbert V. Walmsley said the ten-minute change will not have a major impact on the teaching of high school subjects.

Prior to its decisions affecting the grade school band and chorus, the board heard the views of Mrs. June Nightingale Branning, vocal teacher at Sacred Heart School.

The after-school choral program is estimated to involve $1,600 in yearly extracurricular costs for a director and accompanist. Plans for the after-school band are projected at $1,900 for the year.

Mrs. Branning spoke as a parent, Granite City Area PTA Council president and Madison County Arts Council charter member. In 1982, she was a Metropolitan Opera district winner.

Discussing elementary vocal music, she said, "We have had this group for nine years. It has been a wonderful experience for the children."

"The students sing simple one-melody songs to two-part, and sometimes three-part harmony. They have changed from white shirts and dark skirts and pants to bright, attractive costumes. They are even choreographed."

"Children of all walks of life can relate to vocal music and its expression."

"Pupils in the first choral group have found different corrections in their lives but still have one thing in common: they value their elementary school musical experience."

"They were taught to follow a leader, read music, and cooperate to perform a program. They learned to combine with the finest voices from all the elementary schools, and they learned pride."

"When I was in Nameoki School in 1959, there was a girls' chorus with 24 voices, and the girls were. We were ready to go to a concert. We arrived at 8 a.m. to practice until 8:45."

"An election was held and we became a school in the Granite City system. They didn't let us go to the contest and that was the end of our chorus. It wasn't until about ten years ago that the junior high school started competing in contests; this has built up the music program."

"If we took away the elementary chorus, we would regress many years. What an asset this has been to the community!"

"Thinking as a member of a soccer family, if you took a soccer ball away from the community it would take away to rebuild the program again. Vocal music does not cost as much, and music has a great amount of value. It was taught by the Greeks to the Romans. Let's not lose this art."

"The chorus should be allowed to perform more often in public. It should be videotaped for Channel 1 or 9."

"They are truly an asset. And there is a charm that a young child's voice has that disappears when the children are older.

"All I have said applies also to the elementary band. If we don't have the beginning program, there won't be any 'feeder' students to the junior high and high school bands. You can't expect fine performers unless they have a learning ground and plenty of experience."

Along with its vote to continue the elementary band and chorus, the board approved a roster of music teacher assignments submitted by Terry M. Salem, personnel administrator.

Joseph E. Owens will conduct the GCHS band and Gail E. Mueller will lead GCHS vocal students.

John W. Schaeffer, vocal teacher, will be Sterling J. Schaefer at Coolidge and Deloris L. Barker at Grigsby.

Mary A. Davis will lead the Coolidge band, Vivian V. Raffaele will conduct the Grigsby band and both will direct elementary bands, as will Linda L. Beane, whose other duties will be Webster and special education music students.

Granite school vocal music teachers will include Mayme P. Schaeffer, Mary Schaeffer, and Maryville; Marjorie J. Fester, Parkview and Maryville; Kenneth A. Jones, Mitchell and Maryville; Patricia Michaeloff, Marshall and Frohardt; Patricia L. Dineff, Niederrhinghaus and Mitchell; and Carole J. Ryan, Prather.

Salem said, "Using the present 13 music teachers, vocal music is scheduled for three days one week and two days the next week. Although the schedule is not set in stone, in a period, it could be a 25-minute schedule by eliminating the five-minute passing period. In many elementary buildings, this arrangement has been utilized for several years."

"I have incorporated various aspects of Joe Owen's plans as well as the input of the building principals in reaching a practical solution. This schedule will work."

"The music teaching positions are established using the 13, with Mayme Schaeffer returning from leave. We have considered teaching time, passing time, recesses, travel time and other schedules, such as physical education and learning centers."

"Although the music department would prefer an addition of three or four music teachers, it is agreed that this is a feasible schedule. Teachers have been placed in nearly possible positions recommended by the music department."

In reviewing health programs, the board talked with Mrs. Betty Bartels, the high school nurse, and James D. Morris, former South High principal who is administrative assistant for secondary schools.

With a six-nurse format, tentative plans call for one to be based at the high school; one at Coolidge and Niederrhinghaus; one at Parkview, Webster and Maryville; one at Grigsby and Mitchell; one at Frohardt and Marshall; and throat culture screening and the teaching of two high school health classes.

Estimated local cost of the staff is $143,507, compared to $100,678 for four nurses or $180,079 for eight nurses.

A.O. Smith hearing nets praise, hiring queriesBy GEORGEANN McGEE
of the Press-Record

Enthusiastic M. James Stober, assistant treasurer for A.O. Smith Corp., represented his firm's request for $10 million in low-interest revenue bonds at a public hearing Tuesday.

When no questions were raised by residents, Stober took the opportunity to praise Granite City's spirit of cooperation with its reopening industry. "A.O. Smith is being welcomed back as a good corporate citizen," Stober said.

Some aldermen, however, used the occasion to question Stober's company's future hiring practices. The firm closed in 1980, six months into a strike called by local United Auto Workers.

In his opening remarks, Stober said the $10 million revenue bonds would go a long way towards establishing the economic base of A.O. Smith's $24 million renovation plans. The request represents the maximum amount allowed for tax-exempt bonds.

The plant also will benefit from a $2.5 million 10 percent interest Urban Development Action Grant sponsored by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The funds will be used primarily for equipping the plant. A.O. Smith owns the building. A small portion of the money will go towards parking lot improvements, a building facade and roof repair needed after the May 1 tornado and last week's storm.

The firm expects to be in full production of small car frames for one to be the "Taurus" automobile sometime during the second quarter of 1984.

About 300 workers will be employed in the new production line. The plant formerly employed as many as 1,400 employees. The lighter operations will require only about 25 to 30 percent of the plant's floor space, Stober said. Room will be available for other industries to rent.

According to the treasurer, the success of the Ford Motors' "Taurus" car will initially determine the extent of the hiring. The local plant will be the exclusive manufacturer of the new car front-end assembly.

In response to questions by Ward Aldrich, Lloyd Bailey, Stober said the firm had no specific plan to rehire former employees, but would open applications to any skilled laborer. Former employees "would certainly be good candidates to look at," according to Stober.

Vincent Bunyon, manager of long-range planning for A.O. Smith, said the firm will try to hire as many local people as possible. He said the job search will include the local job services, as well as newspaper advertisements.

No hiring will be done this year, and no hiring date has been set, he stressed.

According to Bunyon, the firm was attracted back to his area due to the availability of low cost bonds and the fact a community college was accessible for training. He also cited the assistance of the county's Community Development Department and the Tri-Cities' Area Chamber of Commerce. Stober said the excellent transportation network here was high among the key factors.

Stober said he has been "overwhelmed" by the positive attitude of the community towards A.O. Smith's return.

U.S. Rep. Paul Simon to address SIABDFC

U.S. Representative Paul Simon (D-Makanda) will address the members and guests of the Southwestern Illinois Areawide Business Development Corporation at its First Annual Meeting Wednesday, Aug. 10.

Simon, who recently announced his candidacy for the U.S. Senate, will address the group following its annual business meeting. Agenda for the evening includes election of the 1983-84 board of directors and the annual report of SIABDFC President Ron Wallace.

Wallace's report is expected to cover the outstanding activities of the corporation last year, and its needs and goals for 1984.

Since the SIABDFC's certification as an "SBA 503 Development Company" in January, the firm has authorized more than $2 million in loans to companies doing or expanding in the region. The loans will create more than 300 permanent jobs in Southwestern Illinois.

Under the SBA 503 Certified Development Company rules, the SIABDFC can sell ventures which are guaranteed by the SBA, and loan the proceeds to eligible small businesses. Such debentures can represent only 40 percent of the borrower's needs; the remainder must come from local participating bank (50 percent) and the borrower (10 percent). The $2 million in SIABDFC debentures authorized to date has leveraged more than $3 million in private capital investment in the region.

BURGLARS TAKE CB
Leonard C. Crone Sr., 2705 Roosevelt Ave., Granite City, reported to the Madison police Wednesday at about 10 p.m. that burglar removed a CB radio and a bilateral 100 watt linear from his vehicle, parked in the 1200 block of Madison Avenue.

The organizer and sponsor of this summer program is the Committee for Cultural Relations with Armenians Abroad in Yerevan, Armenia. While in Armenia, all the month-long expenses will be paid by the Cultural Committee.

"Along with the honor of having been selected as a family spokesman, I am happy

of the role of a good-will ambassador, representing the Armenian Youth of the United States. We will brief

you regarding these matters

before your departure," the letter explained.

Inspector warns of electrical dangers caused by recent storms

Madison's building inspector, John Dutko, made an appearance at Tuesday night's aldermen's council meeting to allay any concerns to check wiring and electrical meter boxes that could have been damaged in recent storms.

He told the council he discovered open wires, damaged by a storm, at a home and was forced to have the utility company turn off the electricity until the problem is corrected.

"I am asking everyone to check wiring in their own home or if they know of an unsafe condition, any place, to let me know. This is for the benefit of children and other people who may come in contact with defective wiring. Please be aware of the danger," the building inspector explained.

In other business Tuesday night, Curtis King, assistant building inspector, told the aldermen that four temporary occupancy permits, four occupancy permits, two building permits, were issued in the West Madison area and one electric meter inspection was made.

Also, the house at 117 Second St. and 806 Franklin St. has been cleaned up and the property at 720 Jefferson St. has been cleaned up and the back porch repaired, King noted.

Monthly bills for the city in the amount of $35,547 were members.

The resignation of Robert L. Richert, a police dispatcher, was accepted during the meeting. Richert, in his letter of resignation, said he has accepted a private security position but asked to be notified any time the city has an opening on the police force, to hold a tag day on Aug. 26 from 4 to 7 p.m. and on Aug. 27 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Metro-East Chapter of March of Dimes also requested permission to conduct a roadblock at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue, on Saturday, Aug. 27. Due to apply for such a position. Council approval also was given to several organizations who wish to conduct fund-raising collections in Madison.

The city gave permission to Madison County Salon, Eight and Forty, to sponsor a tag day on Sept. 16 with all proceeds to be donated to cystic fibrosis, and to Granite City Little Rascals football club, to be run by coaches and assistant coaches, to hold a tag day on Aug. 26 from 4 to 7 p.m. and on Aug. 27 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The Metro-East Chapter of March of Dimes also requested permission to conduct a roadblock at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue, on Saturday, Aug. 27. Due to the conflicting dates of the two activities, the aldermen granted approval for the project with the stipulation the Metro-East Chapter choose another date.

A letter from Reese Construction Co. of Cahokia, notified the council that blacktopping work to begin at Second Street and Madison Avenue, in Madison and continue to 20th Street and Madison Avenue in Granite City will tentatively be completed by October 1.

Marshall said his office was told by Warren Taylor of the 2100 block of State Street that he was in the restaurant's drive-through lane when a man came up to the car window and began cursing him and using obscene language.

Taylor asked the man to leave the restaurant and his order from the service window, but then pulled out of the line and got out of the car to find out what the man's problem was, the victim said. Words were then exchanged and a fight ensued.

Taylor reported being struck in the head and, after they fell to the ground, being kicked, reports said.

When the ISP officer arrived, the man ran down Clark Avenue. He was chased and caught by the trooper and was identified as Sexton.

Sexton was charged with resisting a peace officer and battery. He was later released after posting a $200 cash bond.

The victim sustained several small cuts and a large hematoma to the left eye, which was bleeding from the eyelid, it was learned.

The annual audit application is up $150 from last year for a total of $3,500.

GC parks OK $933,575 budget

The Granite City Board of Park Commissioners adopted the 1983-84 budget of $933,575 at its last regular meeting. The ordinance appropriates funds for all expenditures of the Granite City Park District for the fiscal year beginning May 1, 1983.

The new budget total reflects a two-percent increase over the 1982-83 budget of $914,945 with only one area showing a decrease from last year's appropriations.

Appropriations in the community fund total $612,120, up $21,626 from last year. This includes $117,624 for the administrative department, $303,734 for the parks department, $59,210 to operate the concession stands, $46,150 for swimming pool operations and $8,402 to operate the ice rink.

The only decrease in the new budget is the recreation fund which totals $255,455. This is a difference of $6,750 from last year's appropriation of $262,205. Included in this fund is $45,415 for neighborhood parks.

Appropriations for Wilcox Park, playground, $26,570 for the Lincoln Place Community Center and $37,045 for the Brown Recreation Center.

Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund contribution of $46,000 is an increase $3,404 over last year's appropriation. A total of $16,500 has been budgeted for tort liability, workers' compensation insurance which is an increase of $200 in that fund over last year.

The annual audit application is up $150 from last year for a total of $3,500.

GC Night at Busch Friday

Tomorrow night, Friday, Aug. 5, is Granite City's turn in the limelight. Tomorrow, Granite City, along with other select Missouri and Illinois towns, will be honored at Busch Stadium.

Friday is Granite City Night at Busch Stadium.

Approximately 20 of 300 tickets remain available for the game Cardinals game with the Phillies and are available only at the Financial Planning Clinic, 3701 Nameoki Road, in the Tri-Mor Bowl building.

Granite City Night Chairman Mark Goldenberg of the Financial Planning

Centre expects those tickets to sell out by Friday morning. Despite the anticipated sellout, Goldenberg encourages Granite Cityans to attend the Granite City Night by purchasing tickets at the stadium.

The remaining tickets for sale at the Financial Planning Centre are in the reserved loge section (220) and sell for $6. Ticket prices at Busch Stadium are $8, $10 and $12. Bleacher seats are $3, $4 and $5.

A brief ceremony before the game on the playing field is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

The game begins at 7:35 p.m.

GRANITE CITY NIGHT '82. Last year, several hundred Granite Cityans attended Granite City Night at Busch Stadium on Aug. 18. In that game, the not-yet world champions defeated the San Diego Padres 2-1. Among those who attended the game and pictured in the accompanying photograph are Seventh Ward Alderman, Michael Modrusic (at top center wearing glasses), Dave Nolan (in front of Modrusic) of the Granite City Park District, and Betty and Bob (formerly Granite City North baseball coach) Stegemeyer at top left. Granite City Night '83 is this Friday, Aug. 5, as the Red Birds take on the Philadelphia Phillies. A few tickets for the game are still available at the Financial Planning Centre located at 3701 Nameoki Road, in the Tri-Mor Bowl building. Tickets are $6.

Two GC residents 'win the gold' a Special way

Winning has increased confidence in themselves

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

For most athletes, winning a championship, whether it be a state, national or international championship, is the ultimate goal.

For Steven Crowder and Craig York of Granite City, winning an international championship is only a means and end, not the end itself.

Crowder and York won gold and silver medals at the 1983 International Summer Special Olympic Games at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, La. July 12-17.

Crowder was part of the gold medal 100 meter Freestyle Relay from Illinois and won silver medals in the 25 meter backstroke and the 25 meter freestyle.

York won his gold medal in standing long jump and won a silver medal in the high jump.

Out of 4,200 mentally-handicapped athletes from 52 nations at the international event, Crowder and York were among the few to win gold medals. But the medals were more than awards for Crowder and York; they were symbols of increased confidence for both young men.

Valerie Lee, program director for the Specialized Services, Inc. and a house parent for Crowder, has noticed a change in the 20-year-old Crowder's confidence in himself.

"Steven shows a lot more confidence in himself," Mrs. Lee said. "He's always been a little bit shy, but since he's won at the Olympics, he told his friends, 'Hey! Look at me! I won these at the Special Olympics!'"

Crowder has been winning for 10 years, mostly at Granite City's Wilson Park. In 1982, he advanced to the Illinois Special Olympics and earned the right to advance to the International Special Olympics by his performance.

He was the only swimmer from Madison and St. Clair counties to participate in the international meet.

Jo Ann Higgins, a physical education instructor in the Granite City School District, helped both Crowder and York in their training.

"I think it's great that he was able to win," Mrs. Lee said. "He understands the importance of wins, and he brought all kinds of souvenirs home to tell everyone what he did."

"The fact he was able to do something positive like that has enabled him to get over much of his shyness. I really think that's going to help him do much better at home and at school," Mrs. Lee said.

Crowder went with with one thing in mind — to try as hard as he could to do it.

"I tried and I beat them," Crowder said. "It makes you feel pretty good about yourself. I tried to go faster, and I did it."

During Crowder's training for the Special Olympics, he worked for two hours every day during the summer at Wilson Park. Now that the competition is over, Crowder cut down on his swimming. He plays tennis and bowls regularly.

"He was really excited about being there, and he is doing all kinds of activities now. Steven now feels he is someone's special, and everyone in our house is really excited about it," Mrs. Lee said.

Crowder hopes to go into trade school after leaving the center. He said he is interested in becoming a firefighter.

York, 19, has a somewhat different story to tell. York was able to attend Granite City School District facilities and graduated from Granite City South High School in May.

As a high school student, York won out for the track team at South and worked on the high jump and long jump there. According to York, South track coach Dave McClain helped him out during his high school career.

At the International Special Olympics, York leaped 8-7 in the standing long jump and 5-6 in the high jump for his medals.

"I just went there and wanted to be the best in my events," York said with a sense of humility.

York said he received a lot of support from his parents, Larry and Brenda York, and his brothers as well as from McClain.

"I wanted to come back with the gold. It was in my mind to it and I did it," York said.

York also put his body into his effort. Many days, York would work a whole day strictly on jumping to prepare for the Special Olympics.

York also made the sophomore basketball team at South during the 1982-83 school year, continuing to play basketball at Wilson Park. "I'm all right," York said of his basketball abilities.

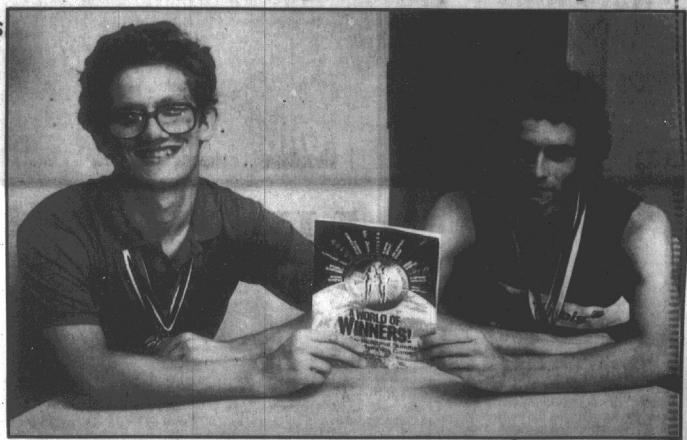

Like Crowder, York also felt he became more confident of his talents because of participating in the Special Olympics.

"I started to leap more and more, and I felt good because I was more confident in myself. Once, I felt like giving up, but I shook it off and kept working at it," York said.

After the Special Olympics, York has spent more time listening to the radio and girl watching. "I really want to do anything as I can now."

He plans to attend either Granite City Center or attend a trade school. He is hoping to go into construction after he finishes school.

"I felt excited about it. I wanted to come back a winner," York said.

GOLD MEDALISTS. Steven Crowder, left, and Craig York, both Granite City residents, won gold medals at the International Special Olympics, at Baton Rouge, La., recently. Crowder won the gold medal as part of a 100 meter freestyle relay, and York won his medal by winning the standing long jump.

SWISA Championships Saturday Sonnenberg: Ready for swimming competition

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

ALTON — It may seem surprising that Celeste Sonnenberg, coach of the Paddlers' swimming team, is still feeling the pressure of the annual Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association championships Saturday.

When the eight teams of SWISA get together at Alton's Summers Port pool at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, Paddlers will try to win its fourth straight SWISA swimming championships.

Despite the fact Paddlers have won the last three SWISA championships, Miss Sonnenberg and her team's confidence will be tested when the meet comes around.

"Of course, we're going to have pressure on us. Everyone's wanting to beat us because we're the defending champions. The kids are tense because of all the big rivalries throughout the summer season and the YMCA meets. I'm going to be as nervous as the kids are Saturday," Miss Sonnenberg said.

As in last week's SWISA diving championships, Paddlers' star competition will be Monarchs of Edwardsville and Gaslight of Collinsville. Another stiff challenger will be host Summers Port.

"Those teams have some standouts and good relay teams. It all depends on how well the people swim Saturday," Miss Sonnenberg said.

She is confident that Paddlers will be able to put in some strong times at the meet. Even though Paddlers started

Swimming & Diving

"They're under pressure right now because they really want to win the meet again this year," she added.

Among the top swimmers in SWISA is Pattie Martin of Paddlers. She has dominated her competition in the girls 13-14 division. "She's really good, and she has a lot of talent. She's going to be a competitor for the next few years," Miss Sonnenberg said.

Other top swimmers include Cheryl Forbes, 8-9 girls, Robby Terry, 8-9 boys, Kelly Reed, 8-9 girls, Jenny Baker, 8-9 girls, Vince Darnell and Niles Baggot, 11-12 boys, and Mike Geske, 15-18 boys.

Miss Sonnenberg also said her 15-18 girls are extremely strong. "We have eight strong girls who are equally strong swimmers," she said.

She said strong competition in the latter part of the season has helped the team. "We were glad to swim against the tougher teams because it will get the team ready for the championships," she said.

Preliminaries begin at 8:30 a.m., and finals will begin at approximately 1 p.m. Summers Port is located on Greenwood Lane, north of the Godfrey Beltline.

Porter purchase of Brimberry home false

Last week it was reported on KMOX radio of St. Louis that Darrell Porter, catcher of the St. Louis Cardinals had purchased the home on Parkview Drive in Granite City previously occupied by Thomas Brimberry, the alleged mastermind of the Stix & Co. brokerage firm stock fraud.

After numerous attempts to reach Porter, who last week had been in Montreal and most recently returned to St.

"I know for a fact that he owns a beautiful home in Kansas City, Mo. and is very happy there. I don't think he's interested in moving to Granite City."

Ed Urban, President of the Bank of Edurban, the bank which holds the mortgage to the house said last Thursday, "He (Porter) has not purchased the house. The house is still unoccupied at the present time. There has been no agreement between the bank and Dar-

McFarland is GCC girls' cage coach

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Center, Granite City's branch college of the Belleville Area College District 522, came another step closer to shoring up its coaching staff for the coming year Tuesday as Dr. Frank Gornick, GCC provost, named Keith McFarland as girls' basketball coach.

The hiring of McFarland leaves just one coaching position open, girls' volleyball. A decision on that position will be made next week, Dr. Gornick said.

"Keith's a hard worker," Dr. Gornick said. "I think that he can bring in the kind of talent we want and build the program that we can be proud of."

Gornick also stated that McFarland's knowledge of the area as a contributing factor to McFarland's appointment to the position.

McFarland, originally of Troy, joins Granite City's team will not be the only coaching duty he will assume at GCC. He has also been hired as Graham's assistant coach with the boys' team.

For McFarland, 31, accepting the GCC coaching position is like coming home. A 1970 graduate of Triad High School in St. Jacob, he again makes his home in Troy.

After a two-year coaching stint with two Texas high schools from 1980-82, McFarland returned home because of what he termed as the lack of basketball interest in the area. The primary sports interest, McFarland said, is football. "Everybody's football crazy down there," he said.

At 6 feet 4 inches tall, McFarland's undergraduate career included a one-year stint at Illinois College. After leaving IC, he transferred to Belleville Area College for a year before attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Named an honorable mention All-American at BAC and SIEU in 1975 with a physical education-teaching degree, McFarland substituted in area school districts before accepting a coaching position with the Bloomington, (Texas) School District and later in the Houston School District.

South crushes North in Legion All-Star finale

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

ALTON — Most of the pitchers at the annual District 22 All-Star game Tuesday have been inactive at least a week, but the North Division All-Star pitchers were apparently more affected by the lay-off.

The solid hitters of the South Division combined for a twin massacre of the North Division at Alton's Gordon Moore Park. The South Division swept the pair 12-8 and 10-2.

Even though a North Division team, Alton, won the District 22 Tournament by defeating Marissa, the South Division champion, the South Division All-Stars happened to be much stronger this year.

Alton, incidentally, hosts the Illinois American Legion Tournament and the Illinois State Bantam baseball tournament. The tournament, which begins August 11, will be played at Gordon Moore Park. Marissa plays at the Fifth Division tournament at Harrisburg. That tournament begins today.

Edwardsville manager Ken Schaeke, who was the manager for the North Division team, knew what the difference in the game was, and that was pitching.

"Our pitching didn't really shut them down, but they have a lot of solid hitters," Schaeke said. "We hit the ball well, and we didn't make any really bad errors. They just had a little bit better pitching."

Brian Clawson of Edwardsville and Chris Maher of Alton were the losing pitchers for the North. No Tri-City (Granite City) American Legion pitchers were on the North All-Star team.

The four Tri-City players on the North Division team — catcher Daren DePew, third baseman Vince Mitchell, and outfielders John Linhart and Dave Strother — made some contributions to the North squad.

DePew and Mitchell played all of the first game for the North Division. Mitchell was 2-for-3 for the North with a RBI double in the fifth inning. DePew walked in the fifth and scored on Mitchell's double.

Linhart was the designated hitter for the North Division. He walked once and was 0-for-4 in the first game.

However, he came back in the second game for one time at bat and made the most of it. Linhart doubled home a run for the North Division.

Sheikh, who was one of the leading batters in District 22 this year, walked three times in the second game. Sheikh started the second game for the North Division and did not play in the first game.

Linhart was a part of the North Division's first run scoring in the first game. He and Edwardsville's Randy Williams walked, and Edwardsville's Kevin King blasted a three-run homer over the left field fence. The North Division led 3-1 at that point.

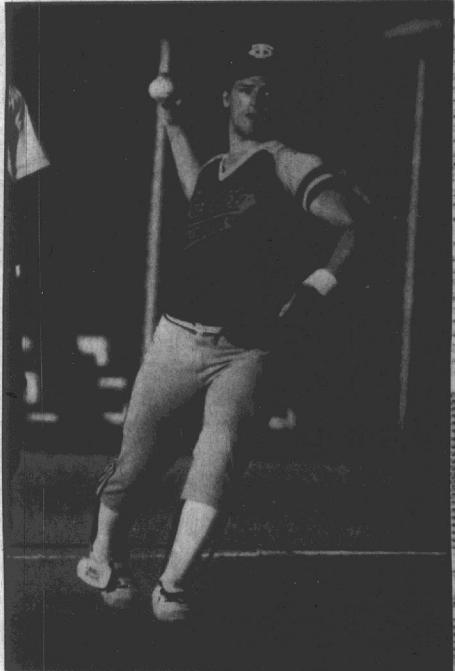

From there, things went downhill for the North Division. The South Division scored three runs in the third inning and four runs in the fourth inning to run away with the North Division.

The second game was not any better for the North Division as the South Division hitters continued to pound North Division pitchers.

"We aren't worried that we weren't able to win," Schaeke said. "The only thing we do in this game is show off the talent in both divisions."

Tri-City manager Larry Corey was a coach for the North Division team.

Alton manager Jess Hopkins was named District 22 Manager of the Year, and Alton right fielder Dave Strother was named Most Valuable Player in the district this year.

ALL-STAR. Vince Mitchell, the third baseman for the Tri-City American Legion baseball team, started the first game of the District 22 All-Star games Tuesday at Alton's Gordon Moore Park. The North Division lost both games, 12-8 and 10-3.

In NBC Tournament

Clarinda Iowa walks past Spanky's, 7-6

By AL BARNES

of the Press-Record

WICHITA, KANSAS

The Clarinda, Iowa, Red Sox literally walked away with a victory in their first-round game in the National Baseball Congress tournament here Wednesday night, defeating the 7-Up/Spanky's of southwestern Illinois, 7-6, with the aid of four free passes in the ninth frame, and a 10-inning game.

Couch Eldon Warfield's Illinois club dominated the ballgame from the opening inning as they jumped out to a 3-0 lead on a leadoff double by Granite City's Jack Scarborough, who went two-by-four in the game, and three straight hits, including a single by Steve Williams and a double by Granite City's Tom Green, and a slugging double by Darrell Wehrend, who continued his hot streak which started last week in the Missouri state NBC tournament.

Clarinda got on the board in the second frame, helped greatly by a pair of walks.

In fact, the Spanky's starter, Jerry Vitale, posted his second straight brilliant mound job as he only allowed three hits in the six and one third innings he toiled.

Stan Fabre of Nicols State, La., came on in relief of Vitale, who had filled the bases on three walks.

The last batter in the Clarinda lineup, Jim Wiesen, blasted Fabre's first offering to score Rich Everly (on with a walk) and the same for Ty Kessa. The lanky Louisiana hurler then retired the side by striking out Jim Ruder and Mark Davis, leaving the 7-Up/Spanky's with an apparent safe three-run lead, 6-3.

And, even with the leadoff man for the Iowa team, Jim Ruder's two-run right-cutting the Illinois team's lead to 6-5, and two outs, it looked good for the Warfield Warriors.

At this point, Warfield called on this control pitcher, Vince Broderick, of Edwardsville, who issued a pass on purpose to fill the bases.

Prior to that, however, a costly error by Doug Peters at shortstop, has scored Ruder with the tying run.

The victory upped Clarinda's record to 43-18. 7-Up/Spanky's fell to 34-21.

The Illinois nine will play sometime tomorrow (Friday).

In other action Wednesday at Lawrence Dumont Stadium, the tourney's defending champions, Santa Maria, Calif., were upset by Tempe, Ariz., 5-4.

Pascagoula, Miss., walloped Madison, Wis., 13-5; New Orleans, 10-2; and Cedar Rapids, Iowa, 7-6, and Valdosta, Ga., turned back the St. Louis Sotolar Tuckpointers, 5-2.

The Missouri state champions, the St. Louis (County) Browns, will make their final appearance in the two-week double-elimination meet sometime Friday.

During the regular season, the 7-Up/Spanky's split pain of games with both Red Oak and Clarinda.

FORMER STUDENT. Melinda Pinnon, standing, expresses her personal gratitude for having shared opportunities made available by the local Linkages Educational Employment Exploration Program (LEEP) through which, as a student, she was employed by Periodical Publishers. The occasion was the annual Linkages appreciation luncheon honoring employers who donated their time to the project. From left to right are B. J. Davis, Granite City superintendent of schools, C. A. McMillan Jr., Coordinated Youth Services executive director, Therese Pashe, LEEP teacher, Melinda Pinnon, and Shirley Blasingame, LEEP project director for local schools.

Pay hikes for superintendents

Madison County Regional Superintendent of Schools Harold E. "Gene" Briggs, who began his new elective term Monday, simultaneously received a yearly pay increase, from $39,000 to $43,500.

Legislation authorizing higher pay for regional school administrators, sponsored by State Sen. Sam Vadaliabene, was signed by Gov. James R. Thompson in time for the new terms. The senator revived the proposal four times before it passed in the closing hours of the General Assembly session.

The salaries vary according to population. Madison County's Russell Masinelli was raised from $35,500 to $40,000 and Supt. David Mills of Jersey, Greene and Calhoun counties was raised from $31,000 to $35,500.

Under the new law, assistant regional superintendents with master degrees will get 85 percent of the superintendent's salary, up from the previous 75 percent.

The regional officials and their staffs are paid by Illinois. Statewide cost of the raises is $800,000 a year.

STRUCK AT PARTY

While at a party of Alexander Street last week, Tina Creek, 2109 Louise St., reported she was struck by two persons also attending the event.

STATE OFFICER. Nancy McEvoy, project administrator for Education-CETA Linkage, Illinois State Board of Education, Springfield, reviews the importance of maintaining "linkages" between the private sector, educators and state agencies when addressing employers at the annual LEEP appreciation luncheon. Seventy-three attended the event at Charlie's Restaurant.

ARREST AFTER CRASH
Wyness F. Knapp, 42, of 2241 Monroe Ave. was arrested for having no driving license and no vehicle registration last week after the rear of his pickup truck—backing near gasoline pumps at 19th Street and Niedringhaus Avenue—hit the front of the parked auto of Janice Wible, 2432 Benton St.

'Energetic' director brings 'Oklahoma!' to SIUE

By PAT JOINER
Jon Williams Edwards' mother thought he would only get about as far as Joplin, Mo. Then she thought that he would turn around and come back home, to Ada, Okla. She misjudged her son's determination. Badly.

Edwards went to New York in 1957 at the age of 18 to become a dancer and actor inspired by the "old movie" shown once a week in Ada. He decided that singing and dancing like Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers "looked like fun."

He admits to fright when he went to New York. He grew up very quickly. "I got there," he said, "and I didn't know how to look for an apartment or room in the New York Times." Then he printed everything with abbreviations, and I didn't know what it all meant. So I had to go to the desk clerk at the 'Y' and ask for interpretations."

The director of the final Summer Show-Biz production "Oklahoma!" starring tonight at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville also had some problems with parking on the wrong side of the street. He remembers thinking that one didn't really have to pay the tickets. "And suddenly they come knock on your door one day after you have 25 tickets and say you really do have to pay for these tickets," he laughed. He says that, all in all, New York was "a learning experience."

Edwards was involved in only one production during his high school days. He does not even remember the name of the play. "All the seniors kind of did whatever they weren't really sure what they were doing. We just kind of stumbled around on the stage." There was no dance. Dance was "foreign" to everyone in the Small Oklahoma town of "a little under 4000."

Jerome Robbins "inspired" Edwards the most. Robbins, director, owner and choreographer of the Jerome Robbins Dance Company, took two of his protégés every two years and gave them a scholarship to his dance studio. Edwards was one of those students. "I'd say he's the one who really made me want to stay in New York," Edwards said.

Edwards remembers that Robbins was a difficult man with whom to work. "There's a hard core, I think, that's hard for anyone to understand. A director's not pushing for himself. A director pushes for the cast. And that's hard for a cast to understand. Sometimes they never do."

That is not the case with the cast of "Oklahoma!" according to its director. "This is a very good cast. They're among the most cooperative people I've ever worked with." The cast, Edwards says, is hard-working, believe in what they are doing and "like to do it."

"Oklahoma!" will debut at 8:15 p.m. today in the Communication Building theater at SIUE. The show also may be seen Aug. 5 and 6 and 11 to 13 at 8:15 p.m., and Sunday, Aug. 14, at 2 p.m.

The first scene of the musical will be shown on a screen. It was filmed in a cornfield. The lead character, Curley, played by Howard S. Bell, sits on a horse. Immediately after the scene, Bell will appear on the stage.

Edwards had a bit of trouble trying to film the scene. First, a location had to be found. A farm near Collinsville provided the setting. Then a horse had to be found. This task proved to be more difficult than the first. No one wanted to donate the horse, and the person that could not rent one. "It's very costly," stated Edwards. A horse was finally located near Collinsville. Filming was set for July 26, just a little more than a week before the opening of the play.

The one-time member of the Ann-Margret Dance Company set for a resounding success in his first SIUE interview last February. He wanted to come to the university because he felt that SIUE had the best facility and through that he would enjoy doing "Oklahoma!" again.

Edwards directed "Oklahoma!" four years ago in Norwalk, Conn. Norwalk is near his present home of Westport.

Edwards also taught a says of Edwards: "He's probably the most imaginative person and the most creative I've worked with."

Jon Edwards definitely has the "energy."

AARP to mark 25 years

Eighteen members of the Granite City Chapter of the Association of Retired Persons, Chapter 357, agreed to participate in the 25th anniversary celebration of the National AARP.

In conjunction with the event the chapter will plan activities to observe the anniversary year, according to Virgil Worley, chapter president.

As a community service project, the chapter members have been collecting discarded eye glasses and donating them to the Lions Club.

According to Worley, the association has more than 3,200 AARP chapters throughout the nation which sponsor a wide range of community public service programs; work to influence the enactment of state and national legislation of benefit to older Americans; and acquaint Association members and other older citizens with the programs and services offered by the national organization.

Founded in 1958, AARP now has nearly 15 million members and continues to grow at a rate of more than 1,000 new members per day. There are more than 300,000 members in Illinois.

The business session was held at Anchorage Homes Recreation Hall conducted by President Worley who also opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag and the Lord's Prayer.

Reports were submitted by Mrs. Edith Worley, secretary; Leona Spickett with a financial summary and Carol Stashish who spoke on new legislation.

There will be no meeting in August and the next board meeting is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Sept. 14. The next

Price-Krug

The wedding of Miss Darla Jo Krug and David Alan Price was solemnized on June 18 in an 7 o'clock evening ceremony at Glenview Chapel Assembly of God Church with the Rev. Mike Adams officiating.

Nuptial selections before and during the service were provided by Linda Starnes at the piano.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Krug Sr., 1659 Poplar St., and the groom is the son of Mrs. Patricia Price Randall, 2145 State St., and Larry Price of Los Angeles, Calif.

Mother of the bride was Mrs. Gertie Roberts, a sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids included Cindy Randall, the groom's sister, Laura VanZandt, and Cathy Isbell. The flower girls were, Donna Collier and Jenny Cornell, cousins of the bride.

Nancy Padgett and Billie Krug, the bride's cousin, served as the flower girl and ring bearer.

The groom chose Kenny Hahn as best man. Groomsmen were Jeff Padgett, and Curtis and Jerry Krug, a cousin and brother of the bride.

Seated as guests were Larry and Robin Cornell, the bride's cousins.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School South in 1980. The bride is employed as a bookkeeper for the Granite Trust Co. of St. Louis, and the groom works at the K-Mart Store in Granite City.

A reception was held immediately following the service at the United Steelworkers of America, Local 67, Hall at 2334 E. 25th St.

The newlywed couple resides in Granite City following a wedding trip to Branson, Mo.

Playground toll high

About 18,000 children are admitted to emergency rooms each year because of playground-equipment accidents. About 77 percent of such injuries are sustained in falls.

4th anniversary of Son-Life Fellowship

Son-Life Fellowship will celebrate the fourth anniversary with Campmeeting '83, Aug. 11 to 14, at 1203 Vandala in Collinsville. The fellowship was started four years ago by Dennis and Paul Amsden in a room at Holden Inn with 12 people and today there are approximately 800 on Sunday mornings.

Guest speakers will be Gary Palermo, Leo Price and Earl Johnson. Gary Palermo was born in Collinsville and has been an evangelist for about eight years. He will open the Campmeeting at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 11, and will speak again at 4:30 p.m. on Aug. 12, Saturday, and will close the Campmeeting at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Leo Price is a graduate of Rhema Bible Training Center in Atlanta. His ministry is endorsed by Kenneth Hagin and Tommy Anderson, and is currently the pastor of Son-Light Fellowship in Panama City, Fla. He will speak at 10 a.m. on Aug. 12, 7:30 p.m. on Aug. 13 and 2:30 p.m. on Aug. 14.

Earl Johnson is presently the senior pastor of a large church in Pasadena, Calif. He is to speak at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 13 and 10 a.m. Aug. 14.

There will be special music by Mary Lee Price, who traveled with the Maranatha Reptore Company and Bell Hallion, who will be joined with the Festival of Praise. The Son-Life Praise Band will lead choruses before each service.

In addition there will be "Kampmeeting" games under the direction of Hap and Sandy Schoeber, this will be Vacation Bible School. There will be crafts, puppets, games and for all children up to 10 years old. Nurseries are available for children up to age three, and a special nursery for nursing mothers, according to the Rev. Dennis Amsden.

Mt. Zion hears Indiana group

A covered dish dinner was served this week to friends and members of Mount Zion General Baptist Church present.

The Rev. Don Richman welcomed 75 who attended and the Rev. Dale Price gave the blessing at the dinner held in the church hall.

Guests were welcomed with the choir director, Mark Warren, leading the congregation in singing several hymns.

Guests were the Gospel Light Singers from Indianapolis, Ind., who sang during the service followed by the Rev. Steve Daily delivering the religious message.

Plans are now being formulated for a revival set for Oct. 2 through the 5th, the host minister announced. He then offered the closing prayer.

GOSPEL SINGERS AT NEW LIFE ASSEMBLY

The Soul Searchers, a gospel singing group will perform at the New Life Assembly of God Church, 1909 State St., on Sunday evening at 6 o'clock, according to the Rev. Daniel J. Moore, host pastor.

There also will be special prayer for the sick and the public is invited to attend, Rev. Moore added.

God is God's word to us, "Be angry and sin not," Keep under control and let it dominate you. Do not let it cause you to sin. Not against God, nor against your neighbor.

Angry people act. They work, vote, protest, or join up. Anger moves us. I'm commanding anger, under control, is as powerful as love. God knew what He was doing!

Here is God's word to us, "Be angry and sin not,"

Keep under control and let it dominate you. Do not let it cause you to sin. Not against God, nor against your neighbor.

Go ahead, be angry and enjoy it!

Senior companions sought

Belleville Area College's program for Older Persons offers a Senior Companions Program for low-income persons 60 years of age and older which serves the Quad-City area.

Persons who qualify on the age and income basis are being asked to volunteer 20 hours per week for a stipend rate of $2 per hour, and are reimbursed for out-of-pocket expenses for travel and meals while volunteering for the program.

After qualifying and receiving appropriate training, the senior companion is assigned in a residence to give companionship to an older person who needs some support or supervision in order to be able to remain in the mainstream of life.

Stricter rules for SIUE fee deferrals

A revised tuition and fee deferral policy will be effective with registration for fall quarter at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

University officials announced that students unable to pay their tuition and fees by the due date may be able to qualify for financial aid or hardship deferrals, but requirements have been tightened in the revised policy and those who have questions about the requirements are being encouraged to contact the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance at 1-692-3890.

Students who have questions about deferral procedures may contact the Student Work and Financial Assistance at 1-692-3890.

Job offers to SIUE grads show decline

Job offers for this year's college graduates nationwide are down from last year at this time, according to David Van Horn, director of University Placement Services at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The number of job offers to graduates at the bachelor degree level, compared with 51,290 last year, Van Horn said.

The college survey shows that candidates in the discipline at the bachelor's level to report more offers than last year.

The council reported that, although the average salary at the lower end of the salary scale is ($16,860), the discipline also reported the largest percentage of increase (7.6 percent) in the average salary offered.

For hardship deferrals, the new policy requires that a payment of 25 percent of the student's full tuition and fees be made before a deferral can be granted.

Students who might have difficulty meeting the 25 percent payment should consider applying for student loans as soon as possible, Jensen said.

The student must also document the financial hardship and, if deferrals have been made in the past, the record must show that pay-

CHARGE MAN WITH RESISTING, BATTERY

Cited to a disturbance in a mosque, officers saw a woman running in the street, who stopped them and alleged she had been hit on the face and head by her husband, Michael David Parker, 26.

Mr. April J. Parker also reported being knocked to the ground and then kicked in the chest. She appeared "very upset" and was taken by officers to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment. A battered women's organization was contacted in Belleville, but Mrs. Parker later declined the group's assistance, reports said.

Parker, 26, was arrested shortly after the incident and was charged with battery and resisting arrest.

ALCOHOL CHARGE

Tommy F. Dong, 46, of 4046 Brueke Ave., was arrested at 25th and State streets at 12:20 a.m. Tuesday and charged with illegal transportation of liquor after an open bottle of liquor allegedly was found in his auto.

Van Horn said the number of offers to engineers continued its downward trend for a second year. "This year, their proportion of the total volume dropped to 50 percent, the lowest since 1976," he said.

The proportion of men's and women's salary offers revealed no significant differences in the engineering groups. Van Horn said women fared slightly better in some engineering disciplines while men received higher average offers in others. In business, humanities, social sciences, and sciences, the average salary offer to women was lower than the average for men in all cases except economics. In economics, women averaged $19,116 a year, compared with the men's average of $19,056.

Van Horn said the story was similar in all disciplines at the master's degree level. By the end of the year, several disciplines recorded more Senior companions never administer medicine and are not permitted to do any heavy cleaning. Their assignments include writing letters, reading, helping to prepare light meals, encouraging interaction in good hygiene, helping with a prescribed physical therapy program, assisting in home management, developing social contacts and shopping.

It is an important program to the clients who are given the companions. The monetary gain received by the senior companions does not exceed Public Act 1000, Social Security, Medicaid food stamps or other benefits. In addition to the financial assistance, they are given the opportunity to earn senior status, which are less senior to them.

Persons interested in the program may contact David Pfeifer, Madison County field coordinator, at 876-3223. Applications presently are being taken.

Persons who have questions about the deferral procedure may contact the Student Work and Financial Assistance at 1-692-3890.

John Jenett, director of the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance, said a 10 percent change in fall quarter is that the students can no longer owe SIUE for prior debts and obtain a deferral. For students receiving financial aid, the amount of financial aid expected must cover the tuition and fees owed, he said.

For hardship deferrals, the new policy requires that a payment of 25 percent of the student's full tuition and fees be made before a deferral can be granted.

Students who might have difficulty meeting the 25 percent payment should consider applying for student loans as soon as possible, Jenett said.

The council reported that, although the average salary at the lower end of the salary scale is ($16,860), the discipline also reported the largest percentage of increase (7.6 percent) in the average salary offered.

Randy L. Clemens, 25, of Wood River, was injured at 4:50 a.m. Tuesday when the vehicle he was driving north in an alley in the 3000 block of Madison Avenue left the road and struck a concrete porch at the rear of Mr. B's Shop, 3030 Madison Ave.

Clemens was charged with failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident. He was released upon posting his driver's license.

For the year, only 20 job offers to graduates at the bachelor degree level, compared with 51,290 last year, Van Horn said.

The college survey shows that candidates in the discipline at the bachelor's level to report more offers than last year.

Fleishman to talk at opening school institute

Alfred Fleishman will speak Monday, Aug. 22, at the institute day opening the 1983-84 school term in the Granite City district.

Initial classes for kindergartners through twelfth graders are planned Tuesday, Aug. 23.

Certified personnel are to assemble at 8 a.m. Aug. 22 in the Granite City Senior High School auditorium, 3101 Midway Ave. for a 90-minute general session.

Donald Stucke, president of the District Nine Board of Education, will welcome the gathering. Additional welcoming remarks and introductions will be made by Superintendent of Schools B.J. Davis.

The address by Fleishman will deal with "Sense and Non-sense in School Communications and Teaching." He is a founder of the Fleishman-Hillard public relations company headquartered in St. Louis.

Bulletin meetings are planned from 7 a.m. to noon Aug. 22. Principals will conduct faculty meetings in the 12 buildings which will be operated this school year: G.C. School, Constance and Griggs, junior high schools and nine elementary schools—Frohardt, Marshall, Maryville, Mitchell, Niedringhaus, Parkview, Pfeiffer, Webster and Wilson.

After a lunch hour, teachers are to participate in individual curriculum planning and committee meetings from 1 to 3:20 p.m.

Courses for nurses slated

Two continuing education programs sponsored by St. Elizabeth Medical Center are available to all registered nurses interested in attending.

The latest component of the series, "Critical Care Nursing Course," began today and will meet for nine weeks. In this class, nurses learn to use their skills learning for caring for critically ill and respiratory patients.

"Advanced EKG Interpretation for Nurses," which began on Tuesday, Oct. 25, and runs for nine weeks, continues an analysis of more complex rhythms. Fourteen contact hours approved by the Illinois Nursing Association (I.N.A.) will be awarded to participants upon successful completion of this course.

All courses meet from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. in the Nursing Education Classroom located on the third floor of McKinley School building.

For further information regarding present or 1984 class offerings, nurses may contact the SEMC Nursing Education Department at 788-3266.

School use fees raised

Fees for use of Granite City school buildings and grounds were increased yesterday night by the Board of Education.

Supt. B.J. Davis said, "It is the first increase in these charges since 1980."

"Due to the spiraling of our utility costs, we feel the increases are justified."

"This policy change will not affect the contracts that already have been signed at the old prices, but it will affect all future leasing of 23 percent."

Added custodial services will be charged at a minimum of $10 per hour times 1 1/2 the hourly rate of the custodian plus Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund costs.

Some district administrative fees will be charged at a minimum of $10 per hour times 1 1/2 the hourly rate of the custodian plus Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund costs.

Elementary school cafeterias and preschools will cost $30 ($30) no admission and $60 ($65) with admission. Two-hour recreation activities, $16 ($10).

Classroom rental, $16 ($10) no admission and $50 ($50) school or school-connected groups.

A $31.50 charge will be made for the services of the technical director. A charge of $100 is necessary for school technical help.

The fee schedule applies to events involving a maximum of three hours. Activities exceeding three hours will be charged an amount equal to one-third the fee.

Groups will be charged on a cost-incurved basis for preparation and/or cleanup work by district employees who will be required to be present to supervise the regular school term which can be rented for $125 (formerly $75) for a no-admission event or $190 ($10) no admission and $50 ($30) with admission.

The same classroom rental fees as at grade schools and junior high schools will be charged to Granite High School. To use the school's annex will cost $60 ($10) or $125 ($75).

No athletic practice sessions will be scheduled for the high school gymnasium which can be rented for $125 (formerly $75) for a no-admission event or $190 ($10) for an activity where admission is charged.

The high school cafeteria fee will be $40 ($25) or $110 ($65).

High school auditorium rental cost will be $125 ($75) or $190 ($10).

Corn yield in jeopardy

The drought that has prompted state officials to seek federal help for dwindling pastures is biting deeply into the Southern Illinois grain crop.

Agronomists with the Southern Illinois University Carbondale School of Agriculture say they believe the area's corn crop may already be cut in half.

"The potential exists for the entire crop to be lost," Donald E. Ellsworth, professor of plant and soil science, said Wednesday. "We have some corn that is completely barren. It didn't even make an ear."

Drought has come to Southern Illinois during what agronomists call a critical time for corn: pollination. That is the time that determines how many ears of corn a plant will produce.

"A lot of sweet corn is pollinating now, will not make ears," he said. "If you look at those half-filled or empty ears and imagine that's what's to come for the year, you'll know how farmers feel right now."

Elkins and Varsa said temperatures over 100 may result in upper leaf curling and with the overexposure to the sun, the crop will be stressed.

"In other parts of the state, farmers are comparing the season to 1980, when Illinois corn yields dropped to 100 bushels per acre. Pockets of severe crop loss similar to the situation in Southern Illinois — also have been reported.

The first official response to the drought was a request by Gov. James Thompson for federal relief for livestock farmers facing dehydrated pastures.

He has asked the U.S. Department of Agriculture to permit farmers to graze cattle on acres set aside for the Payment-In-Kind (PIK) program. PIK acres are supposed to remain idle as part of the government's plan to reduce crop production.

Some farmers have put as much as 30 percent of their grain acreage into PIK.

The calling method for the past three years included a "super sub" list composed of those employees, in each job category, who had been honorably dismissed effective after the previous school year.

"Super substitutes were given first choice, where qualified, for a substitute position, permanent or temporary, at a long-term likelihood," Terry M. Salem, personnel administrator, said.

The change now made from dual lists to a single rotation list was made as necessary because of the increasing volume of honorable dismissals.

More than 100 were dismissed effective this summer, and while a formal dismissal list at a year earlier still is receptive to offers of substitute work, a board discussion showed.

BURGLAR RANSACKS

The burglar ransacked the home of Dean Johnson, Iowa St. Madison, and stole a video cassette recorder.

An inventory was being conducted to determine what other items were missing. Entry apparently was through a basement window to get inside.

Fred H. Tainer, 1926 Skeen St., Madison, reported early this week that his black wallet, containing $150 cash, his driver's license and credit card, was stolen while he was in a Granite City tavern.

Lionesses mark sixth year

By VALERIE EVENDEN of the Press-Record

Public service and a keen dedication to the conservation of sight and hearing are the cornerstone of the Pontoon Beach Lionesses.

With a combined total of 100 members, the club has achieved many milestones.

The Lionesses will mark their sixth anniversary Monday, Aug. 8, and their accomplishments have been many.

This year, the members served as co-chairs of the Lincolnshire Convention of the SEMC and as hostesses for Lions Governor Don Patrick at the state convention.

Lioness Kelley Pappi serves as an advisor to the Pontoon Beach Lionesses Club, a group which the Lionesses helped to organize.

Local members also aided in establishing the Edwardsville Lions Club.

Lionesses and eight members-at-large. On the roster are 19 wives, mothers and daughters of Lions Club members, it was noted.

Current president of the club is Dolores Kieffer and past presidents include Judith Wasson, Linda Schermer, Nancy Goodwin, Cindy Niepert and Charlotte Fowler.

"Lionesses of the Year" honors for distinguished service have been awarded to Mrs. Fowler, Miss Niepert, Mrs. Goodwin, Cindy Niepert and Charlotte Fowler.

Lions Club members who have served as liaison of officers between the Lionesses and the SEMC include Rich McIntosh, David Schermer, Mike Przygoda, Bob Lipscomb and Nelson King, the current liaison officer.

Thompson seeks easing of PIK grazing limits

Governor James R. Thompson asked the U.S. Department of Agriculture to ease grazing standards in the PIK program last week to ease its立.

"The governor's立 is to encourage Illinois farmers to use fallow land during this summer's heat wave," Thompson said.

"A long period of insufficient rainfall and extremely high temperatures has hastened the growth of pasture vegetation for livestock," the governor wrote in urging the PIK program during a letter to John Block, U.S. Agriculture Secretary.

"However, without flexibility in the PIK program during adverse weather conditions, the program will be in conflict with the best interests of Illinois agriculture."

If the USDA honors my request, the land which is pastured will be immediately opened for grazing," said Thompson.

THE OFFICIAL
QUADRENNIAL LIST OF ASSESSMENTS
FOR THE YEAR
OF 1982 FOR NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP

Herein is a list of Quadrennial Real Estate assessments as made by the township assessor of Nameoki Township, Madison County, Illinois and returned to James W. Barton, Supervisor of Assesments.

The assessed values shown are subject to revision by the Board of Review and to equalization by the State Department of Revenue.

The publication which is made available in accordance with Section 103 of the Revenue Act, serves as public notice to the taxpayer of the county of assessed values fixed upon their property by the assessor of the forward township.

Taxpayers who consider their property incorrectly assessed may appear before the Board of Review and file a complaint in writing within 30 days of the date of publication, all within such time as otherwise provided by Section 108 of the Revenue Act.

such as attorneys fees, and shall include the value of any services rendered by the City Attorney or any other members of the City legal staff or any other employee of the City.

(7) Construction Performance Bond. The grantee shall, concurrently with its acceptance of this franchise, file with the City of Venice within thirty days and at all times thereafter make and file a bond, and cash deposit of Ten-thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) conditioned upon the grantee finally completing the construction and activation of the Cable Television System pursuant to this franchise. The construction bond shall be terminated only after the City finds that the grantee has fully completed the said construction and activation of the Cable Television System as aforesaid.

SECTION 1: Short Title. This Ordinance shall be known and may be cited as the "Venice CATV Ordinance".

SECTION 2: Definitions. For the purpose of this Ordinance the following terms, phrases and words, when used, shall have the meanings indicated herein. When not inconsistent with the context, words used in the present tense include the future, words in the plural number include the singular number, and words in the singular number include the plural number. The word "shall" is always mandatory and not merely directory.

(1) "City" is the City of Venice in the State of Illinois.

(2) "Board" is the Board of Aldermen of the City of Venice.

(3) "Company" is Sun Cable Systems, Incorporated, the grantee of rights under this Ordinance.

(4) "Grantee" refers to Sun Cable Systems, Incorporated, or anyone who succeeds said Company in accordance with the provisions of the franchise.

(5) "FCC" is the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

(6) "Cable Television System" or "CATV System" shall mean a system of antennas, cables, wires, lines, towers, waveguides, or any other conductors, converters, equipment, materials, fixtures or facilities by which the signals of one or more television stations may be received directly, or indirectly over the air and are amplified or otherwise modified and distributed primarily by wire or cable to subscribing numbers of the public who pay for such service.

(7) "Gross Subscriber Revenues" shall mean those revenues derived by the Company from regular subscriber services, namely carriage or broadcast signals and required non-broadcast services.

SECTION 3: Qualifications of Grantee and Grant of Public Franchise.

Authority, having conducted a public proceeding concerning the Company's application for the franchise herein and having afforded all interested parties an opportunity to participate in, and comment upon, the legal, character, financial, technical and other qualifications of the Company and the adequacy and feasibility of its arrangements of the construction of a cable television system in the City, the Board hereby grants the Company a non-exclusive franchise, right and privilege to construct, erect, operate, maintain and/or manage a cable television system, and under highways, streets, alleys, sidewalks, public ways and public places now laid out or dedicated and all extensions thereof, and additions thereto, in the City, all poles, wires, cable, underground conduits, manholes and other television conductors and fixtures necessary for the maintenance and operation of a Cable Television System for the purpose of distributing to the public television and radio signals, other electronic impulses in order to furnish television and radio programs and various communications and other electronic service.

SECTION 4: Compliance with All Applicable Laws and Ordinances. Grantee shall at all times during the life of this franchise be subject to the lawful exercise of the police power of the City and to provide such reasonable regulations as the City shall hereinafter provide, and shall comply with all applicable state and federal regulations. Said rules may expressly include a rule prohibiting the use of City streets or alleys for the installation of additional utility poles or where the utilities are presently underground, prohibit the use of additional conduit, to be used solely by the CATV company. Also, the grantee shall not allow utilities to go underground in the future, the CATV system shall be reinstalled underground. In the event the CATV system has not been installed, it shall be installed underground.

SECTION 5: Term. Subject to the provisions herein, the rights and privileges of the Grantee shall continue for a period of fifteen (15) years from the date of the adoption of this Ordinance, which shall be deemed to constitute a contract between the City and said grantee. Further, said Grantee shall have the right of first refusal in renegotiations.

SECTION 6: Review. No renewal hereof shall be granted unless the grantee has conducted a public proceeding involving public notice and an opportunity for interested parties to participate, during which proceeding the Company's past performance, the adequacy of the franchise's provisions, and the consistency of those provisions with applicable FCC Rules shall be considered.

SECTION 7: Territory Involved. The franchise extends throughout the present territorial corporate limits of the City and to any other area hereinafter annexed to or otherwise added to the City during the term of this franchise and service to the City and its inhabitants shall be given to all inhabitants of the City and may desire said service. The City specifically retains the right to award to other Grantees the right to operate a CATV system in the City.

SECTION 8: Transmission Line Placement. The poles used by Grantee's transmission and distribution system, wires and appurtenances shall be located, erected and maintained on existing utility facilities where possible, and Grantee shall go underground when utilities do, but not necessarily in the same reasonable location as shall be requested by respective units of government or educational institutions. The City may request, and shall be granted the right to make substitutions of given installations to other City locations.

SECTION 9: Liability and Indemnification of City. Grantee shall, individually and hold the City harmless at all times during the term of this franchise and specifically agrees that it will pay all damages and penalties which the City may be legally required to pay as a result of granting this franchise. Such damages and penalties shall include, but not be limited to, damages arising out of copyright, infringements, and other damages arising out of the installation, operation, or maintenance of the CATV System authorized herein, whether or not any action or prosecution complained of is authorized, allowed or prohibited by this Ordinance.

SECTION 10: Limitation of Services. Services performed by this franchise issued hereunder shall not include the performance of repairing, servicing, or selling television sets or television antennas, nor shall the grantee recommend service to any other persons or firms to be performed by the grantee or by the grantee's agents. Such services shall be provided by a State agency now or subsequently charged with the regulation of cable television, the fees provided for herein and the fees payable to said state agency when added together, shall not exceed the maximum amount permitted by applicable federal law, rules or regulations. The Company shall furnish the City with an annual report showing the Company's annual gross revenues, and such other information as the City may reasonably require with respect to properties and expenses related thereto.

SECTION 11: Modification of FCC Rules. Consistent with the requirements of FCC Rule 76.31, any modification or amendment thereto by the FCC shall, to the extent applicable, be considered to be part of this franchise as of the effective date of such amendment, and shall be incorporated herein by specific amendment hereto within one (1) year from the effective date of FCC's amendment or at the time of renewal of this franchise, whichever occurs first.

SECTION 12: Special Services to the City. The Company shall, without charge for installation, maintenance or service make two installations of extended community antenna service to the City Hall, Library, a single installation at each public and parochial elementary or secondary school in said City and at such other monitoring locations as shall be designated with the City of Venice to be used to be provided by the grantee and Company. Such installation shall be made at such reasonable locations as shall be requested by respective units of government or educational institutions. The City may request, and shall be granted the right to make substitutions of given installations to other City locations.

SECTION 13: Necessity of Franchise. No person shall own or operate a community antenna television system in the City except by franchise issued by the City granting such power to any grantee. In the event litigation is required to enforce the terms of this Ordinance, grantee shall pay legal expenses incurred in the City.

SECTION 14: Color TV. The facilities used by the grantee shall be capable of distributing color television signals, and when signals the grantee receives are received in color, they shall be in all cases distributed in color to subscribers.

SECTION 15: Limitation of Services. Services performed by this franchise issued hereunder shall not include the performance of repairing, servicing, or selling television sets or television antennas, nor shall the grantee recommend service to any other persons or firms to be performed by the grantee or by the grantee's agents. Such services shall be provided by a State agency now or subsequently charged with the regulation of cable television, the fees provided for herein and the fees payable to said state agency when added together, shall not exceed the maximum amount permitted by applicable federal law, rules or regulations. The Company shall furnish the City with an annual report showing the Company's annual gross revenues, and such other information as the City may reasonably require with respect to properties and expenses related thereto.

SECTION 16: New Developments. It shall be the policy of the City to allow any new franchise upon application of the grantee, whenever necessary to enable the grantee to take advantage of any developments in the field of transmission of television and radio signals which will afford it an opportunity to more effectively, efficiently, or economically serve the public. Provided, however, that this section shall not be construed to require the City to make any amendment or to prohibit it from unilaterally changing its policies as stated herein.

SECTION 17: Forfeiture of Franchise. In addition to all other rights and powers pertaining to the City by virtue of this franchise or otherwise, the City reserves the right to terminate and cancel this franchise and all rights and privileges of the grantee hereunder in the event that the grantee:
